Unions Seeking Cash Wage Hikes in 1964

BY SYLVIA PORTER

"Money" is back in style among America's top union negotiators—but unless the United Auto Workers violently upsets the pattern, average cash wage hikes won't be out of the ordinary. And this will be so not only from the viewpoint of our economy in general but also from that of most of the businessmen involved.

On average, cash wage increases negotiated so far in 1964 are the smallest since 1955, are significantly below the average levels of the late 1950s. Thus, to date the wage trend is not putting undue upward pressure on prices, is not threatening a new inflation spiral. While the net profits of U.S. corporations are soaring, prices still are being held across-the-board.

The UAW settlement could, of course, shatter the comparative quiet on the U.S. wage front. This is an undeniable danger. The odds are, though, that the big breakthrough in the auto contract will come in the area of fringe benefits. While these would be costly and would tend to spread to industries less able to absorb the expenses than the auto companies, the impact of fringe benefit increases cannot be measured as precisely as cash wage boosts can.

The plain fact is that—so far—the wage pattern in 1964 is the most reassuring of the entire post-World War II period.

Settlement Study
A study of nearly 1,500 settlements in the first half of 1964 by the Bureau of National Affairs in Washington discloses that the average wage increase is 7.6 cents an hour, lowest since 1955.

To indicate how the pace of wage rise has been showing, the BNA figures the average increase in the first half of 1963 was 8 cents; in the comparable period of 1962, also 7.6 cents; in 1961, 8.3 cents; in 1960, 9.2 cents; in 1959, 9.3 cents.

The average of wage increases being granted automatically in 1964 under previously negotiated contracts is 7.1 cents, the lowest of any year since compilations were started in 1957.

To indicate how the pace of these increases has been slowing, the average in 1963 was 7.6 cents; in 1962, 8 cents; in 1961, 8.2 cents; in 1960 and 1959, 7.9 cents; in 1958, 8.2 cents.

Wage Increases
The number of settlements providing for deferred wage increases is way up this year—appear in 56 per cent of the contracts, a full 5 per cent over last year's total. But there is no evidence that the size of the deferred pay hikes has increased perceptibly.

The highest wage increases are being won in nonmanufacturing. The average in this sphere so far in 1964 has been 10.2 cents an hour. In sharp contrast, in manufacturing, the average negotiated wage hike this year is under 7 cents an hour. The differences between wage patterns in manufacturing and nonmanufacturing have become striking.

The wage picture changes considerably when the construction industry is excluded, for the average of wage hikes in this industry so far in 1964 has been a whopping 15.3 cents. Exclusion of this one industry pulls down all the averages.

In 9 per cent of the first-half settlements studied by the NBA, no wage increases whatsoever were granted. In the same period of 1963 wages remained unchanged in 8 per cent of the contracts.

Fringe Benefits
Fringe benefits are increasing, are spreading, are putting a heavier and heavier burden on employers. Earlier retirement with full pension benefits, new pension or insurance plans, liberalization of vacation, and holiday practices—all these are clear, costly trends.

But as we move into late summer of 1964 and toward the critical phase of the auto negotiations, the wage spiral in the U.S. remains under control. The trend seems almost too good to be true—just as the continuing stability in prices seems almost too good to be true. May both trends are.

5 Represent Appleton at Conference

The City of Appleton, currently involved in fact finding over a labor contract dispute, had five representatives at a labor-management conference in Madison Monday.

More than 250 municipal officials attended the one-day institute conducted by the League of Wisconsin Municipalities.

Representing the city and council were Mayor Clarence Mitchell and Aids Dorothy Stillings (7th) and Arthur Mueller (19th), members of the personnel committee.

City Atty. Frederick Froehlich, authorized by the council to attend, did not. Mayor Mitchell said he contacted Froehlich and was told the attorney had other commitments.

The Appleton Water Department was represented by R. D. Deland, board chairman, and William Gallaher, plant superintendent.

Details of the Wisconsin Municipal Employee Act were explained by governmental and legal authorities.

$2,000 Grant to Highway Patrolman

MADISON (AP)—State Patrol Sgt. Perry L. Griffith of Tomahawk has received a $2,000 grant to attend the traffic police administration program starting next month at Northwestern University.

The grant announced Monday was issued by the Automotive Safety Foundation, an education and research organization founded by automotive industries.

Lawrence Says

Molehills Grow Into Mountains During Election

Johnson Criticized For Premature Talk Of Viet Nam Attack

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Politicians in both parties, unfortunately, make mountains out of molehills and exaggerate the importance of certain occurrences which, if there were no political campaign going on, would hardly attract any attention.

When the Democrats, including high officials of the administration, charged Senator Goldwater with being "trigger-happy," they didn't have any real basis for that characterization. And the Republicans have just struck back with an accusation against President Johnson which is equally baseless.

The Democrats derived their twisted meaning out of a comment made by Senator Goldwater to the effect that the commander of NATO forces should be given more discretion in handling tactical weapons in case of attack. From this proposal, which military men have long been discussing, came the charge that the Arizona senator was "trigger-happy."

Made Speeches

Now the shoe is presumably on the other foot. Republicans have made speeches in the House of Representatives accusing President Johnson of carelessly notifying the enemy of an impending attack, and this, it is claimed, amounts to "trigger-happy irresponsibility."

There is an understandable explanation, however, of what Mr. Johnson did, just as there is an understandable explanation of what Senator Goldwater said in discussing his theory of military defense abroad. But today the debate has taken on the aspect of a major political issue, with the erroneous implications that either candidate is likely to perform his duties in an irresponsible way.

The tirade against the president started after he made his address last Tuesday night over the nation's radio and television networks disclosing the "positive reply" being made to attacks by North Viet Nam vessels against American ships. As he spoke, he revealed that the "reply is being given" and that "air action is now in execution."

Had Notice

Representative Ed Foreman of Texas, Republican, was the first to point out two days later that the enemy had had at least one and one-half hour's notice because, according to the Pentagon summary of the attack, there had been this lapse of time after the president spoke before the planes hit their first target. The State Department and the Pentagon immediately offered the explanation that the president had been assured, when he went on the air, that the American planes were near enough to be detected by enemy radar.

This would normally have disposed of the issue, but within the last 24 hours the UPI sent out a dispatch from its correspondent aboard the aircraft carrier "Ticonderoga," quoting Rear Admiral Robert B. Moore, commander of the American task force which attacked North Viet Nam last Wednesday, as saying:

"I don't believe they were on the radar when the president started speaking."

The admiral added that he didn't think advance notice could have been of any importance anyway, since the attacking U.S. force was so far superior to its opposition.

Military Irresponsibility

Representative Foreman, however, charged in the house that Mr. Johnson was guilty of "trigger-happy irresponsibility," and added:

"Never before in recent history has there been demonstrated such high-level international military irresponsibility. The Pentagon's and the president's awkward attempts to cover up this grandstanding political play only goes to prove how irresponsible the announcement was."

Representative Carl Albert of Oklahoma, the Democratic leader, promptly responded as follows:

"No president of the United States for political gain would ever do, or ever in history has done, anything to jeopardize the lives of our troops. The gentleman's statement... is untrue."

Representative Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, Republican leader in the House, then got into the debate. He pointed out that, at a White House briefing early Tuesday evening — before the president spoke to the nation — the members of Congress from both parties who attended were cautioned against any disclosure of the coming attack lest Russian or Red Chinese planes be able to intercept the U.S. aircraft.

White House Briefing

Mr. Halleck added that all those in attendance at the White House briefing were told specifically that no announcement would be made "until the planes were over the target." He declared that the president's statement was being broadcast before the American planes were over the target.

Now of what avail are all these tit-for-tat charges? There could perhaps be a constructive result — if both Democrats and Republicans, recognizing the futility of such a debate, stopped accusing each other of military irresponsibility and began putting their minds on the really important issues on the national campaign.

Agema Shot Delayed for About Week

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Trouble in a Agema relay box has been blamed for a delay of at least a week in the launch of the storm-tracking Nimbus weather satellite, says the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The launch, originally set for Friday from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., was delayed when a relay box had to be replaced, thus necessitating another systems validation and retest, a spokesman said.

The delay first was set at 24 hours or more, but NASA extended it.

First photographs and performance data from the 830-pound satellite, designed to take photos day and night of cloud cover from 575 miles up, would be released in Washington 12 to 25 hours after the early morning launching, a spokesman said.

Nimbus is an advanced version of the smaller Tros weather satellites now used by the U.S. Weather Bureau. Tros are limited to daytime photography and take fewer pictures per orbit than expected of Nimbus.

Blue Book to be Distributed Soon

MADISON (AP) — The 1964 Wisconsin Blue Book will be ready for public distribution Aug. 20.

Rupert Theobald, director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, said Monday that publication of the book was delayed about one month because of the Legislature's long session and remapping of Assembly and Senate districts.

The 804-page book features a 135-page article on Wisconsin's natural resources. A total of 45,000 copies will be printed and distributed to school libraries and various agencies will not be completed until mid-September.

Township Wants To Install New Treatment Plant

MENASHA—A request by the Town of Grand Chute, Outagamie County, for rezoning of property the township owns in Winnebago County was approved Tuesday by the county zoning committee.

The request was for zoning Grand Chute-owned land in the Town of Menasha for installation of a sewage treatment plant. Installation of the plant is subject to final approval from the county board and the Menasha town board.

The proposed plant would be constructed on land adjacent to the southern border of the Town of Grand Chute, and would serve that town's sewerage system. The State Board of Health requires that the plant be constructed at least 500 feet from the nearest inhabitable dwelling. The location in the Town of Menasha is the only ideal site for the plant, the Town of Grand Chute claims.

The effluent from the plant would have 95 per cent purity and would be deposited in Mud Creek, which flows into the Fox River. There were no objections to the request at the hearing.

$250 Reported Taken From Service Station

Neenah Planning Unit To Back Highway Study

NEENAH—The plan commission will recommend the adoption of a resolution for the county to participate in the cost of the expressway survey to the common council at its next meeting.

The recommendation was decided at the plan commission meeting Tuesday evening.

The survey, suggested by the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, will be for the proposed expressway and the bridge crossings of Little Lake

Welfare Board Lets Contracts

2 Appleton Dairies To Supply Milk for Welfare, City Home

Two local dairies were awarded Appleton welfare and city home milk contracts by the common council's welfare ordinance committee Tuesday night.

It was recommended that Quaker Dairy Co., 125 E. Pacific St., supply city welfare clients with milk in quart containers for 15 cents.

When it came to providing milk in five-gallon containers for the city home, the contract went to Utschig Dairy, 2003 E. Newberry St., the low bidder in that category.

Provided Milk Dispenser
For the past five years, according to the committee, Quaker Dairy held both contracts on the basis of always being low bidder. The firm also provided a milk dispenser without charge to the city home.

Previous Bids
Tuesday night represented the second time the committee considered milk bids.

Previous bids, which had Quaker Dairy low in both quart and five-gallon categories, were thrown out by the committee. Originally when the first bids were opened by the board of public works, the Quaker Dairy bid had been misplaced in the clerk's office. It was later opened and referred to the committee along with the other bids.

As result of the accident, the committee re-advertised for bids

One Person Injured In Menasha Accident

MENASHA—One person was injured and an estimated $300 in damage caused to two autos involved in a collision here Tuesday.

The mishap occurred on De Pere Street just south of Fourth Street when a car driven by Alden J. Johann, 22, route 4, Appleton, struck an auto driven by Donald R. Mahoney, 35, 935 Jefferson St., Menasha, when Johann pulled from the lot of a service station.

Mary Mahoney, age 8, received undetermined injuries in the mishap and was advised to see the family physician.

Johann was charged with failing to yield the right of way.

Menasha Action Won't Affect Valley Planners Zone Plan

MENASHA—Menasha's newly plan submitted several years ago, enacted extension of territorial jurisdiction into certain lands in the Town of Menasha will have no effect on the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission's comprehensive zoning plan, director Eugene Franchett said this morning.

The commission for the past year has been updating zoning ordinances for the various Fox Cities based on a model Schellie

Menasha Town Value Reaches $35.6 Million

Total Is New High; $1.8 Million Jump Recorded

MENASHA—The 1964 assessed valuation for the Town of Menasha — real and personal property combined — reached an all time high of $35,676,150, according to the report of Edwin P. Harold, town assessor. This is an increase of $1,462,100 for real property and $393,200 for personal property, making a total increase of $1,855,300 over the 1963 assessed figure.

Harold said the assessment is based on 50 per cent of full value. The assessor said this is a normal rate of growth for the township. The actual increase is $7,610 less than the previous year.

Using the 1963 tax rate of $24.42 per $1,000 assessed value, this year's gain in assessed valuation would increase the town's tax roll by more than $45,300.

Personal property assessment, for 1964 was $4,688,150, with real estate and improvements assessed at $30,988,000, making a total of $35,676,150.

Real estate showed an increase of 78 new homes, and a gain of $745,800. Seven new places of business increased the mercantile assessment $328,300, and improvements in manufacturing assessments increased the assessed value $410,700.

The only loss was shown in agricultural land and buildings, with a deficit of $12,700. This was due to fire and the transfer of land from agricultural to residential plats, Harold said.

Woman Escapes With Minor Injuries When Truck, Tractor Collide

OSHKOSH — Mrs. Margaret Zwicky, route 1, Neenah, escaped serious injury when the farm tractor she was driving on U.S. 45 near County Trunk GG overturned after being struck by a semi-trailer truck about 1 p.m. Tuesday.

She was taken to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital, suffering from cuts and bruises.

Driver of the truck, Virgil Froesch, 35, route 1, Arena, told Winnebago County police he was passing the tractor and had to cut back in to avoid an oncoming car. The rear of the trailer struck the rear wheel of the tractor, causing the farm vehicle to overturn. Both vehicles were headed south.

Three Enlisted Into Menasha Reserve Unit

MENASHA—Officials of the 274th Regiment, U.S. Army Reserve, with headquarters in Winnebago County police he was passing the tractor and had to cut back in to avoid an oncoming car. The rear of the trailer struck the rear wheel of the tractor, causing the farm vehicle to overturn. Both vehicles were headed south.

Richard A. Mucha, 725 W. Cecil St., Neenah, was enlisted into Company F, Second Battalion.

Ralph A. Miller, 614 Chestnut St., Neenah, was enlisted into Company G, Second Battalion, and Donald J. Spierings, 804 Grand Ave., Little Chute, was enlisted into Company H.

Island Named After Couple Stranded on It

of course, reluctant to go with such short supplies, but Mendenhall again became persuasive and assured them he would send a batteau, a provision boat, within three weeks.

With this promise, Charlie and Angelique were boated the 50 miles from Copper Harbor to the little island. They were dropped off with their pitiful supply of food, a fish net and a little canoe. They were to be picked up three months later, in October. Then the boat departed.

"An Awful Thing"

They built a little shack, caught a few fish in their net. But soon the net became torn and useless, and, in a storm, the canoe was lost. The promised supply boat never came. Angelique was to say this:

"Oh, how we watched and watched, but no batteau came to supply us with food; no vessel ever came to take us away. . . . When at last we found that we had been deserted and that we would have to spend the whole winter on the island, and that there would be no getting away until spring, I tell you such a thought was hard to bear indeed. Our flour and beans were gone. We couldn't catch any more fish. Nothing seemed left to us but sickness, starvation and death itself. All we could do was to eat bark and roots and bitter berries. . . . Oh, sir, hunger is an awful thing. . . ."

Charlie gave up. Fever captured him and he wasted away. Then one day his eyes were bright and he got out a butcher knife and began to hone it. He told Angelique he intended to kill a sheep, but she knew she was the sheep that he had in mind. She stayed alert day and night, watching Charlie and fearing him. But at last in his weakness he forgot her and went to bed, starving.

He died so easily that she never knew when life passed from his body.

Deep snows kept her a prisoner in the shack, but she did what she thought was right. She washed Charlie and prepared him for burial, but she did not bury him. All around her was the rocky island and frozen ground.

Unique Fear

"I could not bear to throw him out in the snow," she said later. "For three days I remained with him in the hut and it seemed almost like company to me, but I was afraid he would spoil."

Angelique, by what effort we can no longer know, built another hut where she could have fire, and she left Charlie's body to freeze in the shack.

Then came loneliness, and then a unique fear. And she said:

"Sometimes I was so hungry, so very hungry, and the hunger raged in my veins that I was tempted, oh, how terribly I was tempted to take Charlie and make soup of him. I knew it was wrong; I felt it was wrong, but some night the fever might come on me as it did on him, and I came to my senses I might find myself in the very act of eating him up. Thank God, whatever else I suffered, I was spared that. I tell you that of all the other things, that was the thing of which I was the most afraid, and against which I prayed the most and fought the hardest."

Hair to Snare Hare

One morning Angelique opened the door of her new hut and she saw, for the first time, some rabbit tracks. She pulled hair from her head plaited it into strands and made a snare. That very day she caught a rabbit.

She tore his skin from its body and ate it raw. It was nearly a week before she caught another, and she made snare after snare and she was half bald. But from time to time she did snare a rabbit.

In March she found a canoe which had drifted in, a derelict but she was able to repair it and use it for fishing. A small piece of canvas that lay in its bottom she cut into strips and made from it a fish net.

Charlie's Asleep

One day she caught three mulets. As she was preparing them she heard a cunest. Mendenhall and his boat had come—eight months after the M. had been brought there.

Mendenhall asked for Charlie and she told him Charlie was asleep.

"I thought Mendenhall's own conscience ought to punish him more than I could," she said.

When Mendenhall understood what he had caused, he blushed and tried to say that he had sent a batteau and wondered why it had never arrived. But his men told her that it was a falsehood.

This is the story of the source of the name of Mott Island. We know of course that such troubles will not befall our comrades for the island is only 45 miles long and there are hundreds of people here, all within walking distance.

It may be, when the weather favors us again, I will get this article off to you. And it will surely be that we will be with our comrades again.

We miss them sorely, they have the cigarettes.

Outagamie Supervisors Stand Four-Square Behind Braves

Outagamie County Board supervisors stand four-square behind the Milwaukee Braves. They went on record Tuesday that they don't want the team to become known as the 'Atlanta Braves.'

A resolution, submitted by Supv. George Greisch (Appleton 3) and unanimously adopted by the board, said the Braves have "led the way and brought big league baseball close to the people of Outagamie County."

The resolution also said, "Since coming to Milwaukee, the Braves have brought Wisconsin much fame by winning the world's championship and by being in constant contention of the National League pennant." It also said the Braves "have been a vital inspiration in the world of sports to the people of our county."

The resolution requested Braves' President John McHale and the officers of the Braves organization "to retain the Braves franchise in the City of Milwaukee."

A copy of the resolution was mailed to McHale.

Board Rejects Move to Sell County Farm

40 Degrees Expected 'October in August' As Residents Shiver

"It's June in January" the on record in Appleton for this song proclaims, but perhaps early in the fall or late in summer, whichever you prefer.

The record for the month is 40, set Aug. 29, 1941. If the mercury goes below 48 tomorrow a record will be set.

The low this morning tied a mark for Aug. 12 set in 1930. Other cities in the state are also experiencing cool weather.

A look at high temperatures around the state Tuesday showed the effect of the cool air mass. Burlington reported a 77, Beloit and Green Bay had 75s, Madison had a 73, Lone Rock 69, La Crosse 64, Eau Claire 63, Wausau 62 and Park Falls and Superior shared a 58.

States High

Racine had the state's high of 86 and Milwaukee had an 80, both recorded before the cool air reached the areas.

The Weather Bureau, in its five-day forecast for Wisconsin said readings will be seven to 16 degrees below seasonal normals.

Superior reported the state's low this morning of 44 degrees. Other readings included Park Falls and Wausau 46, Green Bay 48, Madison and Eau Claire 49, Lone Rock 50, Racine 52, La Crosse 53, Milwaukee 55, Beloit 56.

The nation's high Tuesday was a 109 at Mineral Wells, Texas. Bismarck, N. D., with a near freezing 33, took honors for the country's low today.

How They Voted

Supervisors voting for tabling the farm sale resolution were Frank Appleton (Appleton 5), Norman Beyer (Appleton 20), Cecil Carpenter (Maine), Ervin Conradi (Bovina), Harry Cunningham (Appleton 17), Peter Farrell (Town of Kaukauna), Walter Fredericks (New London 3), I. A. Grunwaldt (Black Creek), P. J. Heenan (Appleton 8), Marvin Schumacher (Combined Locks), Orval Jens (Center), Theodore Jens (Appleton 16), Waldemar Klein (Appleton 14), Paul Kostka (Little Chute), George Kroes (Vandenbrook), Walter Laetke (Liberty), Arthur Lecker (Grand Chute), Clarence Miller (Appleton 9), George Miller (Shiocton), Chris Peeters (Deer Creek), Glenn Pelton (Appleton 12), Edward Pezter (Osborn), Stanley Perkins (Dale), A. C. Remley (Appleton 10), Chris Roepcke (Cicero), Emmett Root (Ellington), Gerald Rumsam (Hortonville), Alvin Salsman (Town of Black Creek), Rudolph Spreeman (Greenville), Matt Verfurth (Kaukauna 3), J. W. Weyenberg (Kaukauna 2) and Joseph Weyers (Freedom).

Against tabling were Norman Austin (Oneda), Marvin Babbitt (Seymour 2), Henry Baritz (Appleton 1), John Corcoran (Kaukauna 4), Russell DeLaHunt (Kaukauna 5), Emil Diestler (Hortonville), John Dietz (Appleton 13), Ivan Dunbar (Seymour 1), George Gotsch (Appleton 3), John Hedemann (Buchanan), Norman Helms (Town of Seymour), Arthur Hoolihan (Appleton 11), Andrew Jimos (Appleton 2), Walter Kollan (Maple Creek), Eugene Kloes (Appleton 4), N. Patrick Mares (Appleton 19), John Schreier (Appleton 6) and County Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer (Kimberly).

AVS Registration For Day School Set for Aug. 19

Registration for all new day school students at the Appleton School of Vocational, Adult and Technical Education will be held Aug. 19 in Room 203 of the school.

Staff members will be available for programming and consultation during registration, according to Carl Bertram, school director.

Students registering Aug. 19 will be assured of a place in the program. Bertram said. Registration after that day will be taken only as vacancies occur.

Both part-time and full-time students are asked to register. Classes begin Sept. 8.

on the farm "because these people will never get any better anyway."

Appleton Supv. Glenn Pelton (12) said the health, education and institutions committee was not qualified to study the questions because "there aren't enough farmers on the committee."

Supv. Walter Fredericks (New London 3) agreed and asked County Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer of Kimberly to appoint a "committee of farmers" to study the hospital-farm problem.

Supv. Eugene Kloes (Appleton 4), a member of the health, education and institutions committee, criticized board members for implying he was "incapable of dealing with the hospital and farm problem because he lived in the city and wasn't a farmer."

"And besides," Kloes said, "if this resolution is laid over until January, the hospital board of trustees will have to prepare a farm budget for next year. And, remember the depreciation factor. The buildings and equipment will depreciate $6,000 during the year. If we hold the farm until after Dec. 31, we will be charged the full $6,000 depreciation."

Library Plans Reading Club Circus Picnic

KAUKAUNA — The circus party for members of the Public Library summer reading club will get under way at 1 p.m. Thursday on the library grounds.

In event of rain the affair will be postponed until Friday. Various games and contests are planned together with refreshments being served. Prizes will be awarded winners in various categories. Youngsters will be dressed in circus character costumes and a parade held.

The entire program will be under the direction of Mrs. Isabel Black, children's librarian.

Supv. Clarence Miller (Appleton 9) told Kloes he was using wrong figures to prove his point, and to "stay out of the farm business." County Business Administrator Alvin Woehler told Miller, a member of the agriculture committee, Kloes' information was correct.

Several supervisors said the farm should not be sold and others said if it is sold, it shouldn't be sold until next spring when personal property could bring a higher sale price.

But Kloes read a letter from County Agent Russell Luckow which said cattle would bring a higher price if sold in the fall.

The motion to lay the matter over until next January's board session and to refer it to the county board's special 11-man committee of one man from each standing committee and Fulcer, was offered by Miller.

"And besides," Kloes said, "if this resolution is laid over until January, the hospital board of trustees will have to prepare a farm budget for next year. And, remember the depreciation factor. The buildings and equipment will depreciate $6,000 during the year. If we hold the farm until after Dec. 31, we will be charged the full $6,000 depreciation."

Supv. Clarence Miller (Appleton 9) told Kloes he was using wrong figures to prove his point, and to "stay out of the farm business." County Business Administrator Alvin Woehler told Miller, a member of the agriculture committee, Kloes' information was correct.

Several supervisors said the farm should not be sold and others said if it is sold, it shouldn't be sold until next spring when personal property could bring a higher sale price.

But Kloes read a letter from County Agent Russell Luckow which said cattle would bring a higher price if sold in the fall.

The motion to lay the matter over until next January's board session and to refer it to the county board's special 11-man committee of one man from each standing committee and Fulcer, was offered by Miller.

Supv. Eugene Kloes (Appleton 4), a member of the health, education and institutions committee, criticized board members for implying he was "incapable of dealing with the hospital and farm problem because he lived in the city and wasn't a farmer."

Israeli Criticizes U. S. Marine Corps Officers, Night Tactics

BY BEN PRICE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Once upon a time, a U. S. Marine Corps squad was supposed to consist of 16 men and a publicity sergeant.
This was, of course, sour grapes from Army types.
President Harry S. Truman once accused the Marines of possessing a "propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's."
Truman couldn't have done worse if he had criticized motherhood. He subsequently apologized for his "unfortunate choice of language."
In brief, it usually is about as safe to criticize Marines as it is to lift beagles by their ears.
Living Memory
Now, practically for the first time in living memory, there has been an independent critique of the Marines which has been published recently although in Hebrew.

It is addressed to the question: Are the Marines really as good as they say they are? While it is a natural question, it is one that would never occur to a Marine.
The critique was written by a lieutenant colonel named Shaked — first name unavailable — and appeared as a two-part series in the magazine "Ma'Arakhoth," official publication of the Israeli general staff.
Israeli Officers
With fine impartiality, Lt. Col. Shaked, who was one of seven Israeli officers who spent a year observing the Marines, found 14 things to the Marines' credit and 14 which he considered were on the debit side.
In general, Shaked found that the high self-esteem with which the Marines customarily regard themselves was justified.
In passing, it might be noted that there is an affinity between the Israeli armed forces and the Marines which goes back over 15 years and may come as a surprise even to Shaked.

One of the best-kept secrets of those years is the fact that a few Marine Reservists helped train some of the Israeli commandos shortly after the nation was formed in 1948.
The presence of these Marines was all very unofficial, of course.
Marine Reserve
In 1948-49 some Marine Reserve officers, all combat veterans of World War II and all of Jewish ancestry, went to France ostensibly as tourists. The exact number is not public. They boarded Israeli-bound vessels in Marseilles at intervals without bothering to notify the French of their departure. They returned the same way.
The intervening months were spent training Israeli commandos in amphibious techniques and hit-and-run raids. One of these Reserve officers, who volunteered for active duty, turned up in Korea. He was a major and over a beer or two would tell of his experiences.

Two Things
Anyhow, Shaked really found only two things he classed as really major faults. One involved officers and the other, night operations.
By Israeli standards, Shaked said, Marine officers were "too orthodox;" they preferred "the safe and easy course of doing everything by the book as taught at Marine Corps schools."
He added that the Marine officers were "unwilling to risk daring and unorthodox solutions."
Shaked also found that Marine junior officers were too young and inexperienced in relation to their noncommissioned officers. He noted that only 25 per cent of the Marine's officers came up from the ranks whereas all officers in the Israeli army had served at least a year as an enlisted man.
Lack of Emphasis
The lieutenant colonel was critical of what he said was a lack of emphasis on operations at night and during bad weather. It is at these times, he said, that surprise attacks could be improvised and carried out.

Part of his criticism dealt with what he said was a shortage of self-propelled artillery and heavy mortars.
These criticisms aside, Shaked characterized the Marines as a unique, outstanding outfit "without a parallel among the best armies in the world."
Shaked said Marine aviation was doubtless "the world's best and most efficient ground support force."
Recruit Training
Marine recruit training was called by Shaked "the finest and most efficient in existence." He said the Marines were well-disciplined, extremely skillful with small arms, that they had superior instruction and that their senior officers were first-rate in the execution of combined operations.
Shaked concluded that the Israeli armed forces could learn a great deal from the Marines.
What do the Marines say about Shaked's 28 points? They agree wholeheartedly with the 14 good points. Now, about those 14 not-so-good points: A Marine Corps spokesman delivered this official view: "Comments regarding shortcomings of Marine Corps equipment and training are not in consonance with current Department of Defense, Navy and Marine Corps decisions regarding requirements, or the degree to which these requirements have been met."
Not Necessary
It is not considered necessary, or desirable, to rebut the comments point by point.
"In all instances, he is either factually incorrect or failed to consider the unique role and mission of the corps and its potential areas of deployment. Officers visiting, or being installed at Marine Corps installations are expected to make comparisons. Such comparisons have in most instances resulted in better understanding among allies with resulting improvement in the planning and execution of combined exercises as well as multilateral defense planning."

Foreign Aid Dollars Finance Limousines for Laotian Elite

BY ANTOINE YARED
VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Ten years ago Cabinet ministers went to their offices on bicycles. Today they ride limousines along the muddy, narrow streets of this administrative capital. The artificial prosperity prevailing among a privileged class of Laotian officials is largely due to American foreign aid this country has been receiving since gaining independence from France in 1954. An underdeveloped country with limited natural resources, Laos depends on foreign aid for its survival. Foreign countries finance, among other things, Laotian imports and coup d'etats. Neutralist Gen. Kong Le's tries connected with the Laotian conflict — including the States — wanted a change in the situation in which a tottering and inoperative coalition government headed by Prince Souvanna Phouma was in power. For the United States the only alternative to the coalition was involvement. The United States did not seem prepared to get involved in another Southeast Asian country. Everyone in Vientiane knew the United States position, including some of the right-wing officers who staged the April 19 coup. Up to this moment no one is sure whether the April 19 coup led by Gens. Kouprasith Abhay and Siho Lanphoutakoul was financed or supported by a foreign country. Aid Not Sought Kouprasith has said the United States was the only country capable of supporting the coup but he maintains that American help was not sought. The leaders, however, may have timed their coup with the belief that once the Communist threat increased in Laos, the United States would step in and support their action. Their prediction proved to be right. Less than one month after the coup, the Communists launched a military offensive against the neutralist forces and captured the strategic Plaine des Jarres. The United States immediately stepped in and provided military aid at the request of Premier Souvanna Phouma. Eleven T28 fighter bombers were delivered as a first installment. American reconnaissance flights began moving over Pathet Lao territory to locate concentrations of Communist troops. Jungles, Mountains The Pathet Lao control two-thirds of Laos' 90,000 square miles. However, only one-third of the estimated three million inhabitants live in Pathet Lao areas, which are mostly jungles and mountains. Those who are now demanding a showdown with the Communists are the same officers who commanded the same army two years ago but could not win the fight against the Pathet Lao. The United States faces the prospect of dealing with the same group of people with whom the war was being lost a couple of years ago. The only exception will be that Souvanna — whose neutralist army has suffered a severe setback — is almost a figurehead premier. In any discussions the Pathet Lao will be in a position of strength.

Investigators Try New Tack in Case Of Bombing Wave

Mass Survey of All Potential Victims to Uncover Some Clue

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
CHICAGO (AP) — Officials are trying a new tack — a mass survey of all potential victims — in an effort to uncover a clue to the baffling wave of bombings and arsons that have hit Chicago area restaurants, night clubs and taverns in the last two years.

The latest in the nearly 50 incidents was reported today as a dynamite bomb exploded in the vestibule of the ornate Ivanhoe Restaurant on the North Side.

Police said the blast caused an estimated $2,000 damage. No one was injured. Five employees were in the kitchen of the establishment, which had closed for the night.

James McMahon, assistant director of the Illinois Department of Public Safety, has mailed 11,000 questionnaires to operators of such businesses in northern Illinois.

"So far we have had 2,261 replies but they all were negative," McMahon said today.

McMahon, coordinator of a seven-county fight against the unseen foe, said there have been many theories on the terrorism "but you don't go before a grand jury and get indictments with theories."

He said a crime syndicate may be trying to "muscle in" on the owners for a cut of the profits or to force the establishments to buy commodities from the syndicate.

Proprietors have been questioned, but not one case has been solved.

"They don't know the reason why," McMahon said.

Lie detector tests given to the victims of several recent bombings have confirmed their statements that they knew no reason for the act.

Fire Investigator
Another man who has investigated each of the fires or bombings, Robert May, a representative of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, had this to say:

"We work completely and wholeheartedly with the law enforcement agencies and we're just as puzzled as they are."

Most of the places bombed or burned were insured.

The bombings and fires have boosted insurance rates for merchants generally, biting into the pocketbooks of thousands of other businessmen who have no connection with the affected enterprises.

Official Action
What are authorities doing to halt the terrorism?

McMahon said establishments of the type victimized are kept under surveillance. State policemen and other officers check to see whether a night watchman is on duty or whether cars are parked nearby after the places close. The license numbers of the car then are checked.

But despite these precautions, predawn explosions damaged two more Chicago area restaurants July 26 and 27 and an apparent touch-off fire swept through a night club in suburban Calumet City July 27.

Nearly 50 eating and drinking places have been bombed or burned in the last two years.

2 Negroes in Runoff Race At Tuskegee

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — Two Negro candidates won their way into runoffs against white opponents in Tuesday's city council race, but three other white candidates won outright.

Negroes outnumbered white persons in voter registrations and there was at least one Negro candidate for each council seat. But the Negro voters apparently threw their support behind only two of the eight Negro candidates — the Rev. K. L. Buford and Dr. Stanley Hugh Smith, professor of sociology at Tuskegee Institute.

In the other three council races, the Negro candidates got only token votes.

Buford, a civil rights worker, received 635 votes and will be pitted against incumbent Dr. Riley Lumpkin, a Tuskegee physician with 730 votes, for place No. 3. Dr. Smith, 670 votes, also will oppose an incumbent, Jimmy Braswell, 585 votes for place No. 4.

If either should win, it would be the first time a Negro has been elected to office in Tuskegee.

In the other race in Tuskegee, Mayor Howard Rutherford led a four-man field but must face used car dealer Charles Keever in the runoff. There was no Negro candidate in the mayor's race.

In Prichard, Ala., another Negro candidate polled enough votes to earn him a place in a runoff for a city council race with Ernest G. Sansom. There were nine other candidates in that race.

Ex-Congresswoman Backs Goldwater

HOMERVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Former Congresswoman Iris F. Fulton says she's leaving the Democratic party to support

Republican nominee Barry Goldwater for president.

Mrs. Blitch retired in 1962 after eight years in the House.

"In my political lifetime, only one leader has come forward to give the American people a choice between a more and more centralized state and the complete dignity of the individual. That man is Barry Goldwater," she said.

Court Upholds Dismissal of Suit for Libel

Action Was Filed By Gen. Walker In Mississippi

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals has upheld a federal court order dismissing the $2,000,000 libel suit filed in Mississippi by former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker against The Associated Press.

The court affirmed Tuesday the decision of the District Court for the Northern District of Mississippi, quashing the service of process and dismissing the complaint alleging libel on the ground that the AP is a non-resident corporation that does not do business in Mississippi.

Alleged Libel
Walker had alleged he was libeled by dispatches filed during the riots that erupted when Negro James Meredith enrolled in the University of Mississippi at Oxford two years ago.

Walker appealed the lower court decision. The appeals court cited the fact that The Associated Press "is a mutual cooperative and non-profit association, formed to gather, collect and interchange with its members news and intelligence which, under the terms of its charter, it can neither sell nor traffic in such news items, but distributes them only to its members. The cost of these services are apportioned among the members in the form of assessments."

The appeals court noted previous cases in which various firms, including The Memphis Publishing Co., had been declared as not doing business in Mississippi although their activities were wider in scope than those of the AP.

"In my political lifetime, only one leader has come forward to give the American people a choice between a more and more centralized state and the complete dignity of the individual. That man is Barry Goldwater," she said.

Chile Trade
Last year's trade between Chile and Cuba was valued at about $10 million. Trade so far this year is at about the same level.

Commenting on the Chilean action, a U.S. spokesman said in Washington: "We are naturally pleased."

The OAS sanctions were voted at the request of Venezuela, which claimed that Castro was attempting to overthrow the Venezuelan government.

In the Chilean presidential race, Communists and other leftists have banded together behind Allende in the Popular Action Front.

The Front had warned that a break with Havana would trigger street violence in Chile.

After the break was announced, Chile's biggest labor organization, the Communist-dominated Central of Workers, said it would retaliate with a nationwide strike. No date has been revealed.

Assassination Report Release Is Considered

Thought Given To Contract With Private Publisher

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren Commission, meeting in secret to consider how it will release the text of its Kennedy assassination report, considered a plan whereby contracts would be signed between the government and some information media.

These media would be supplied the text of the report somewhat in advance of other media on condition they "observe security" — not publish the report before the specified release date and then publish it in full.

The commission's chief counsel, J. Lee Rankin, briefed newsmen after the secret session Tuesday. The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, is nearing the end of its long investigation into the assassination last Nov. 22 of President John F. Kennedy.

Paperback Books
There have been reports that certain paperback book companies have had negotiations with the commission. So, a reporter asked: "How can a government commission, engaged on such a project of grave national import engage in contractual negotiations with private concerns?"

Said Rankin: "You will have to take this up with Mr. George Reedy at the White House."

Reedy is the White House press secretary.

Rankin's response was the same when asked if the report shouldn't be released to everyone simultaneously, perhaps three or four days in advance, so everyone would get a chance to read the thick document before writing about it.

At the White House, Reedy told a newsmen: "As far as the White House is concerned, no plans have been made for the release of the report. We will give consideration to this matter at an appropriate time."

AP President
In Rochester, N.Y., Paul Miller, president of The Associated Press and president of the Gannett Newspapers, said when asked for comment: "The Associated Press is opposed and will continue to be opposed to anything other than simultaneous release of the report to all."

A similar stand was taken by Miles H. Wolff, president of the Record-News at Greensboro, N.C.

He said he could speak only as an individual, but asserted: "If the government plans to release this report in advance to one group, it is shocking. It is perfectly ridiculous to try to figure how the government can do this with a report paid for by all the taxpayers."

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND
By Sylvanus M. Duvell, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvell, Ph.D.

SHOULD YOU ALWAYS THINK FOR YOURSELF?
YES ☐ NO ☐

No, not if you want to think proved more enduring and safer intelligently. Thinking is an against revolution than any outcome respects. Like building a lization in all human history. It house. You can do it only if you are only when men strongly re- have the proper materials to sent injustices, and feel that think with Before you think there is a real possibility for for yourself too much, ask change that revolutions result yourself. Do I really know anything about the subject? Do I have scientific knowledge? Have I read up on the subject? Have I consulted authorities? Worth- while thinking is a putting to- gether of real knowledge not merely an arrangement of pre- judices.

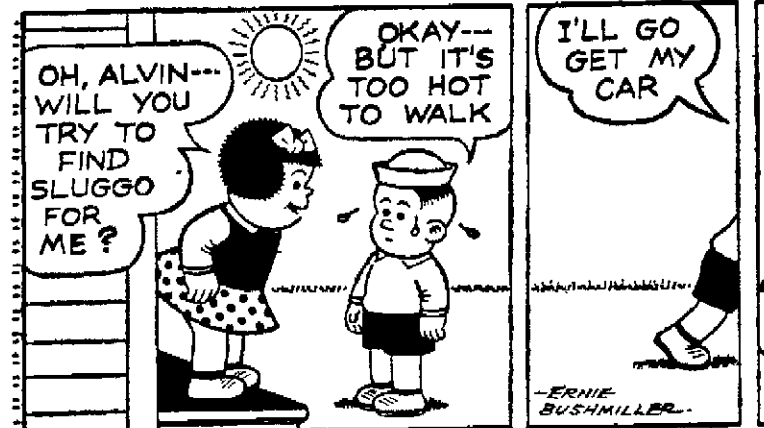

Do social injustices cause re- volutions?
Yes

No, not by themselves. It is we have the support, as well as rather resentments. The old the opposition, of much that is Chinese civilization had serious basic in human nature. Our in- justices built into the very na- ture depends upon what we de- ture of its structure. Yet it velop in our children

Kimberly Studying School Financing

Board to Seek Counsel in Paying Proposed Janssen Addition Costs

KIMBERLY — Financing of a proposed addition to the Janssen School in Combined Locks is being studied by the Kimberly Board of Education.

Work on the proposed 8-room addition is expected to be completed by September, 1965. The addition would include two kindergarten rooms, five elementary classrooms and a central library.

The district currently is using three temporary classrooms because of overcrowding in the elementary schools.

Supt. of Schools Ray Hamann was authorized to contact financial counsel for a meeting with the board to determine the best financing solution. Now under consideration is the possibility of note borrowing or floating a bond issue.

The board has yet to select an architect and carry out other preliminary work prior to start of construction.

Discussion was held on construction of a grade school in the western part of Kimberly, expected to be needed by 1968 or 1969. The board agreed to undertake a study of possible locations, the amount of property needed and the advisability of taking options on existing property.

Hamann was instructed to secure prices for a bus to carry from 12 to 20 children to trainable, educable or physically handicapped classes.

The board authorized three village insurance agents to prepare a package insurance plan covering all needs of the district. Each would share in the annual fee. Currently separate insurance is carried on different buildings, and it was felt a package policy would prove more beneficial.

James Kluge was named district representative to the Board of Controls of the Cooperative Educational Service agency. This agency will replace the county superintendent of schools.

Youth Center

Approval was given to Youth Center hours for the coming school term. It will be open to senior high school students on Friday night and will be held in the junior high school auditorium. If a basketball game is held at the senior high school, Youth Center activities will be there following the game.

Ninth grade students will be granted use of the Youth Center from 6 to 9 p.m. Saturdays. Sunday afternoon activities will be limited to senior high students.

The board agreed to meet with the Parent - Teacher Association Sept. 8 to discuss functions of the school board and answer questions.

Low bid of Schaefer Dairy for milk and Elm Tree Bakery for bread was accepted. Low bids amounting to $885 were accepted for kindergarten equipment and $1,443 for physical education supplies.

The ninth annual invitational weekend at North Shore Country Club, Menasha, was held Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The highlight of the weekend was the Paper Ball held Saturday evening at the club with Mr. and Mrs. George Banta III and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Purdy as co-chairmen. Dinner at 8:30 p.m. was followed by dancing.

Golf trophies and prizes were awarded at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Urban Krippene were chairmen of the events for the weekend. They were assisted by a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. James McNeivins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Mosher, Mr. and Mrs. C. Andree Pertain and Mr. and Mrs. John Sensenbrenner Jr.

The Paper Ball at North Shore Golf Club Saturday evening was the high point of weekend festivities. Committee co-chairmen, above, Mr. and Mrs. George Banta III and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Purdy, look over decorations. A bit of advice given to tournament golfers, below, as part of the party decor was checked by Mrs. Robert Mosher, Neenah, and Urban Krippene, Menasha.

Newlyweds Honeymoon In East

HILBERT — Honeymooning at Washington D. C., and Niagara Falls, N.Y., are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bornemann. The bride is the former Miss Dolores Ann Diener. The couple exchanged wedding vows at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at St. Peter Lutheran Church with the Rev. Martin A. Schneider officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Diener, route 2, Hilbert. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bornemann, route 2, Hilbert, are the bridegroom's parents.

Miss Darlene Pagel, White-water, assisted as maid of honor. Acting as bridesmaids were Miss Doris Schmitting and Miss Carol Hillmann. Junior bridesmaids were Miss Darlene Diener and Miss Susan Meyer.

A brother of the bridegroom, Dale Diener, route 2, Hilbert, served as best man. Grooms-men were Milton Pahmeier and Paul Noeldner Jr. Edward Ke-

The couple was honored at a wedding reception at Van Abel's Restaurant, Hollandtown. Mrs. Bornemann is employed at Aid Association for Lutherans, Appleton. Mr. Bornemann attended Badger Business College, Green Bay. He is with Calumet Bookkeeping Service, Hilbert.

The couple will reside in Hilbert.

Wife Beaters Studied by Team Of Psychiatrists

CHICAGO (AP) — Most wife-beaters in middle class society are not hulky brutes who pound their shrinking violet-type brides whenever they don't get their way, a pilot study indicated today.

Instead, a team of psychiatrists said their small study showed, the men as a rule were shy, sexually ineffectual, reasonably hard-working "mother's boys" with a tendency to drink excessively.

And their wives typically were aggressive, efficient, masculine, and sexually frigid.

The psychiatrists said the wives endured physical abuse for years—until one of their children, usually the eldest son, interfered. Then they sought outside help.

Commenting on the stability of the marriages, the psychiatrists suggested the couples had mutually passive and aggressive personality traits that enabled them to achieve a "working equilibrium" in the marital relationship. This delicate balance was upset, they said, when the intervention of the child became a threat.

The preliminary findings were based on a detailed study of 12 families in a predominantly middle class suburban area in Massachusetts.

The study was reported by Drs. John E. Snell, Richard J. Rosenwald, and Ames Robey, Framingham, Mass., in the current Archives of General Psychiatry, published by the American Medical Association.

The authors said they are expanding their research and that many more families of wife-beaters must be studied to confirm or refute the findings.

Weddings of Sister, Brother Announced

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Miss Jean Tubbs and James Calif., and Miss Brenda Howe, Robinson at 11 a.m. Saturday Hollywood, exchanged wedding promises Saturday in Hollywood.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tubbs, 703 W. Kimberly Ave., Kimberly. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Robinson, 378 N. Wilson St., Kimberly.

Honor attendants for the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Brockman, Kimberly, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

The couple was honored at a wedding dinner after the ceremony.

Mrs. Robinson is employed at the Aid Association for Lutherans. Mr. Robinson is with Kimberly-Clark Corp., Kimberly.

After a wedding trip in northern Wisconsin and Michigan, the couple will live at 316 S. John St., Kimberly.

Flower Golf League Tells Day's Winners

Mrs. Cyril Lippert and Mrs. Donald Streck scored low putts when the Flower Golf League Rosenwald, and Ames Robey, played Tuesday morning at Reid Framingham, Mass., in the current Archives of General Psychiatry, published by the American Medical Association.

The authors said they are expanding their research and that many more families of wife-beaters must be studied to confirm or refute the findings.

Mrs. Leroy Borchert won the mystery hole.

Shiocton Home of Newlyweds

SHIOCTON — St. Denis Catholic Church was the setting at 10 a.m. Saturday for the wedding of Miss Donnanae Marie Guyette and Carlton Bruce Fields. The Rev. Eugene Hotchkiss officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Guyette, route 1, Black Creek. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fields, route 1, Shiocton, are parents of the bridegroom.

The bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Kenneth Fields, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Allen Burns, Miss Ida LeNoble and Miss Rhonda Guyette. Miss Suzette Guyette attended as junior bridal aide.

Kenneth Fields acted as best man. Allen Burns, Rallen Guyette, and Russell Nelson were groomsmen. Ushering duties were fulfilled by Donald Guyette and Donald Fields. Shane Fields was junior male attendant.

A reception was held at the Nichols Ballroom.

After a wedding trip to northern Wisconsin, the newlyweds will reside at route 1, Shiocton.

Mrs. Fields is employed at Zwicker Knitting Mills, Appleton, and her husband is engaged in carpentry.

State Junior Miss Enjoying Her Reign

BY SENA GRAY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

After relaxing from the winter whirl of local, state and national contests, Wisconsin's Junior Miss is beginning to enjoy her reign and all that it holds for her. Miss Marilyn Leister, a June graduate of Pulaski High School, Milwaukee, is spending her summer months touring the state, participating in fashion shows and conducting beauty workshops.

The fair, dark-haired beauty is the first to tell that the Junior Miss contest is not necessarily one of beauty. As state winner, Miss Leister was the recipient of a $1,000 scholarship which she will use when she begins her study of music at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Vocal Talent

For her talent in the contests, Marilyn sang Summertime from Porgy and Bess. As a member of the Florentine Opera Company, Marilyn appeared in Music Under the Stars at Milwaukee's Washington Park. Her duties as Junior Miss of Wisconsin prevent her from singing with the group this summer.

A few years ago, Miss Leister saw a former Wisconsin Junior Miss in a fashion show and decided that it would be fun for her to try out for the Jaycee sponsored event when she was a sen-

Removal Of Crayon On Brick

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: What would remove crayon marks from yellow brick?
A: Remove as much of the crayon on the surface of the brick as possible by careful rubbing with fine steel wool. Then make a paste of powdered whiting or other absorbent powder and a nonflammable liquid spot remover and coat the marks with a thick layer, placing a sheet of thin plastic over this to retard evaporation. When the paste is dry, replace with fresh Repeat treatment if necessary.

Q: I have a table top desk in a corner of the living room which I originally finished with a dark walnut oil stain. Now I'd like to remove the finish and re-stain the wood a lighter color. How can I do this?

A: After removing the finish down to bare wood, apply a commercial wood bleach, according to label directions. Then apply any desired wood stain.

Q: Our concrete driveway is badly in need of repair. We may need an entirely new one, certainly at least a new topping on it. When we have this done, we are considering a heating element installed to melt snow and ice on the driveway. Where to get information about this?

A: I recommend consulting a competent heating engineer or electrician for the best unit for your specific driveway. Helpful information on installation, etc., is available in the following free leaflets: "Radiant Heating—Simplified Design and Installation" (Publication No. 6), published by Copper Development Association, Inc., 405 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017; "Snow Melting and Ice Removal Systems," published by Committee of Steel Pipe Producers, American Iron & Steel Institute, 633 Third Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017.

Melting pads, containing electric heating cables, for use on driveways, etc., are available from electrical contractors or electricians.

Q: Have a basement shower which has asphalt tile glued to a concrete floor. After about four years of daily use, the tiles toward the outer edges are starting to loosen up. Can these be taken up and reglued? How? Or what is the alternative?

A: Heat can be used to soften the adhesive under the asphalt tiles to permit the tiles to be pried up easily with a putty knife. Use an electric iron, turned to low, with a sheet of wrapping paper to protect the tile surface. Tile dealers have special mastics and waterproof glues for use with asphalt tiles. Follow label instructions.

TAFFY'S TIPS

By Dolly Martin

MAIL CALL

Dear Friends:
Thank you one and all for your letters about hairdo problems. It seems that girls everywhere have many questions on this subject, so here are the answers. First of all, my good friend Ila, the New York hairdresser told me to tell you that we're all "Eggheads." Please don't be offended, we really are, you know, or we should try to come close to it! This week's column is devoted to different-shaped heads and how to get a more "oval" or "egg head" look. All the hairstyles are created especially for you by Ila.

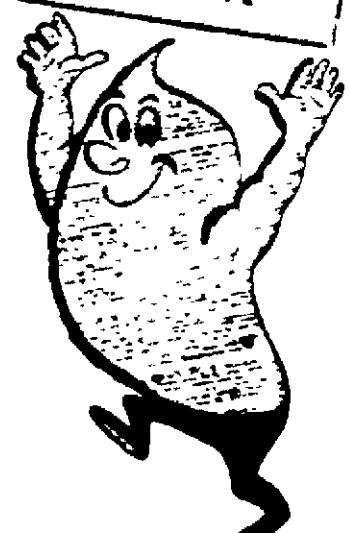

Now, let's get specific on some of your other problems as well. Thin stringy hair: Get a body permanent and cut it short. Thick Hair: Have it thinned by a professional or find a hair style that demands thick, healthy hair. Always set on large rollers. Dry and Brittle. This happens often after a permanent or exposing the hair too much to the sun, so apply "hair conditioner" once a week until you get it in shape. Tease the Hair? Don't! Unless you know how to do this properly you can split the ends. If you must do it—gently please! If you will use large rollers where you want extra fullness you could eliminate teasing altogether. Fuzzy Stragglers at Hairline: This will disappear as you get older, if not they can be removed by electrolysis. In the meantime, comb them down into cute, pixish uneven bangs. Keep happy, Taffy.

SEAMS TO ME
 By Patricia Scott
Choo-Choo Pinafore

Toddlers are cute, adorable little angels, but they do get grubby. One solution to keeping their pretty clothes clean is a cover-up pinafore. Make one in polka dot cotton with pockets that look like a railroad train. The design might even keep a child both busy and clean for a while.

You'll Need: 1/2 yard of polka dot cotton; five yards of double-fold bias tape; fabric scraps for the trains; rickrack for train trim; six buttons for wheels.

To Make: 1. Fold the fabric in half lengthwise so that the folded piece measures 9" x 36". Following diagram, start at one end of the fold and measure over 29 inches. Find the center point of the fold (14 1/2 inches), and mark it for the neck opening. Measure two inches on either side of the center and mark. Draw a line two inches up from the center mark (perpendicular to fold). Join these three marks forming the neck opening, which is four inches long and two inches deep. Mark the rest of the diagram as shown.

Make a three-inch slit from neckline to the "X" mark shown. This will be the back addressed, stamped envelope neckline slit. The dotted lines and twenty cents in coin to cover are front and back guide lines printing and handling costs. The subjects for this fascinating The pockets do not have to be put on both the front and the back. They are attractive decorations on both sides but are necessary only on the front.

2. Bind the edges of the neck slit. Bind the neckline opening starting and ending with nine inches of loose binding or ties. 3. Take one yard of binding and stitch its edges together down the length. Cut it into four, nine-inch pieces. Pin one end of each strip six inches down from the shoulder on each side edge for underarm ties.

4. Bind entire outside edge of pinafore.

5. Fabric Train Pockets:

a) Engine Cab: cut one 2" x 4" piece. Fold to 2" x 2". b) Engine body: cut one 4" x 4" piece. Fold to 4" x 2". c) Car bodies: cut two 3" x 4" pieces. Fold to 3" x 2". 6. Top-stitch two rows of rickrack just below the folded edge of each pocket. Bind together the raw edges around the three sides of each pocket. 7. Stitch the opened - tape smoke stack to the pinafore and the engine. Stitch the cab to the pinafore. Stitch the train pockets.

8. Sew two buttons to each car and to the engine for wheels. You can also add a bell to the engine, placing it near the smoke stack. For your copy of Fifteen Gifts You Can Make, write to Patricia Scott in care of Appleton Post-Crescent, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

6-Year-Old Is Difficult At Pre-School Sessions

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones: My two daughters are exactly a year apart in age, one six and one five. They have always played together and have never had anyone else to play with—that's probably the main reason for the trouble we're facing now. My older girl is ready for first grade this fall, and recently attended the four-week summer session of kindergarten that's held for the children ready to enter first grade.

All through the four weeks, she objected to going to school in the morning she cried because she didn't want to leave me or her sister, and she cried at night about needing to go. She cried in class when she didn't want to do what the class was doing or when she felt her work wasn't good enough. She said she was afraid the teacher would scold her if she made a mistake. She said she didn't like the things they had to do or being told to color back and forth instead of around and having to use the "fat" crayons. I told her that her teacher doesn't mind if she makes mistakes and that right now her hands are growing and the muscles don't work together too well. But that didn't make her any happier. She enjoyed having a classmate over for lunch one day, but she bossed her around and bossed her sister, too. I'd like to know what I can do to help her prepare for school this fall. Was it right to insist that she attend the kindergarten? Mrs. N. C.

It sounds as if this was one time when you didn't make the mistake of letting your daughter tell you how she would permit things to be run. Congratulations!

Instead of getting involved in complicated and probably pointless explanations about the teacher's motives and your daughter's growth cycle, simply tell your daughter that she won't be hurt even though she can't boss everything and everyone at school. Tell her no one expects her to be perfect, and remind her that it's the teacher's job to set the standards for how good your daughter's work should be and how it can be improved by learning to handle materials and tools in certain ways.

In the next few weeks, the best preparation for school you can provide would be to eliminate your daughter's domination of her sister and you. This may cause some extra argument and bickering, but you'll find it easy to handle that once you're convinced you should.

DEAR DR. JONES: My seven-year-old daughter is always asking questions about health. For example, she asks if she's breathing if she runs, she'll ask, "Am I going to have a heart attack?" If someone bumps her, she'll ask if her arm's going to drop off or if her eye will fall out, etc. She gets upset when someone coughs and worries that he'll choke.

This has been going on since she was two years old and I thought she would grow out of it, but it seems to be getting worse. I have tried comforting her and explaining things, but it hasn't helped. We also tried laughing at her, but she just sat and was very hurt to think that we would make fun of her.

MRS. F. P.

Complicated anxieties about anger and fear can lead to constant worries about health. Usually such problems need personal professional treatment of the sort you can obtain at the clinic whose name I'm sending you. Fortunately, a young child's problems of this sort are much more easily solved than those of an older person.

Dr. Jones replies personally to every letter she receives from her readers. Send your question, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Eva Jones, care Appleton Post-Crescent.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

WELCOME TO CLERGYMAN'S FIANCEE

Dear Louise: Announcement has just been made of the engagement of a young lady from a neighboring town to our pastor. The fiancée has been attending our services regularly as has her family, and it is certain that they will soon become members of our church. As members of the ladies' group, we would like to show in some way that we are happy about the coming marriage and that the young lady is welcome. How could we go about it? Is it too soon to give the bride-to-be a shower?

Louise Davis Answers:

I suggest that the subject be brought up at your next meeting so that the secretary can be instructed to write a friendly and cordial note to the fiancée in behalf of you all. She would also say that you are happy about the engagement and coming marriage and that you welcome her into the fold. The note could also say that you are anxious to know her as a friend and a parishioner and of course the message would also wish her happiness. Because of her engagement to your pastor, I suggest that you wait a little longer before planning a shower. It is possible that the church will plan to give some kind of reception before the wedding and if so, I think it should be held before a shower that your group wishes to give. If nothing happens in the way of an official church party before the wedding, then I suggest that you get busy and tell both your pastor and his fiancée that you would like to give a shower and if agreeable, you could set the date.

To Know Usual Odds Is Helpful
When the opponents have an odd number of cards in a suit those cards will probably divide as evenly as possible. When they have an even number of cards in a suit, however, the cards will usually not divide evenly. This knowledge of probability will help you play many hands.
In this hand the opponents hold five hearts between them. The most even division of the hearts is 3-2, and the odds favor that division.
The defenders hold six diamonds between them, but the odds are against a 3-3 break. It is far more likely that one de-

PREPARING CHICKENS FOR BARBECUING

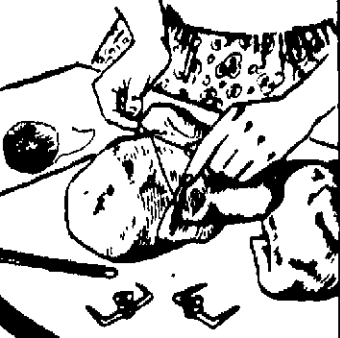

START HERE

Skewer neck skin to the back. Sprinkle a tsp. of salt in the body cavity of each chicken.

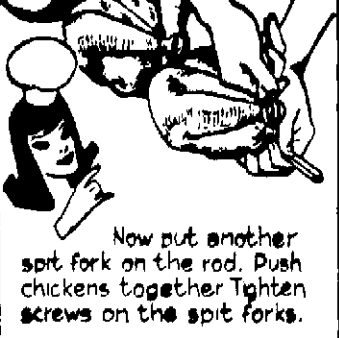

NEXT

Tie wings of the chicken to body as shown. Tie the legs and tail together. Place a spit fork on the spit rod.

THEN

Run the spit rod through the chickens.

Now put another spit fork on the rod. Push chickens together. Tighten screws on the spit forks.

FINALLY

Brush cooking oil over chickens. Place spit on unit. Barbecue chickens, brushing often with oil, until done.

This sets up the rest of dummy's diamonds. South leads a trump to dummy's ace to draw the last trump and put him in dummy to cash the last two top diamonds, declarer leads a low diamond from Ten tricks are now assured, and declarer can even lead a

Ann Tells Man to Face Reality Now Instead of Wonder Later

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 28 years old and have a good job in a department store. Since I was a kid I've had a bad limp which has made me self-conscious. I wasn't able to work up the nerve to ask a girl for a date until I was 20 years old.

Last year I began to take out a girl who works in the store. Bernice gave me a lot of confidence in myself. Until I met her I never thought I was interesting enough to hold a girl's attention.

Bernice is 24, has been married and divorced. She is full of pep, good company and says she is crazy about me. I gave her a diamond engagement ring for Valentine's Day and we plan to be married in October.

Lately I've been hearing a lot of talk about Bernice and the floor walker, Bernice and the shoe buyer, Bernice and the window trimmer, to name just a few. She has told me several lies and now I see other things that didn't add up.

I'm afraid to have a showdown for fear she will break off with me. I couldn't take that. I'm hoping she will settle down after marriage. Any advice?—Hoping.

Dear Hoping: Bernice isn't playing it straight and you know it. Better to face reality now than to marry the girl and wonder where she is—and with whom.

In the department store business there's an old adage—"The first mark-down is the cheapest." This adage applies to people as well as merchandise.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My 17-year-old brother teases me because I'm a steady reader of your column.

He says only odd balls read Ann Landers—that something has to be wrong with a person who wants to read about other people's problems. According to him it's like peeking through a keyhole. He also says there is something sadistic about people who enjoy reading about trouble all the time. He pointed out that last week you wrote about a deaf and dumb beggar, a mean mother-in-law, a retarded child and a little kid who had to wear second-hand clothes.

What shall I say to my brother when he teases me about reading your column? I would surely appreciate it if you could supply me with a good answer.—Landers Fan and Proud Of It

Dear Proud Fan: The next time your brother teases you about reading my column ask him how come he knows everything that's in it?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 44-year-old divorcee, and much too old for this sort of problem. I accepted a job as a receptionist, secretary and book-keeper for a friend who has had severe financial reverses. I'm working at a fraction of my former salary because I want to help him get on his feet. The man has a lovely wife and family and he truly deserves a break.

Our most important customer is an octopus. He comes in several times a week, follows me around the office like a puppy-dog, and makes passes left and right. The louse is getting bolder and bolder by the day and I am sick of it.

If he weren't so important to the business I'd give him a crack in the mouth and call it a day, but we need his account. How can I get him to leave me alone and still keep him friendly—at the business level?—Tired of Running Around the Desk

Dear Tired of Running: If the future of the business hinges on the account of this eight-handed idiot you might as well lock the door now. The man didn't give the firm his account because of you—and he probably will not take his account away if you chill him. So go ahead—and let the teeth fall where they may.

Hollywood-Style Rally Texas-Style Barbecue

Young Citizens for Johnson Honor
Luci Baines and Sen. Birch Bayh

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Political rally, Hollywood style— "You are cordially invited to join us at a barbecue honoring Miss Luci Baines Johnson and United States Senator Birch Bayh, no solicitation of funds." The telegram was signed: Young Citizens for Johnson Committee—co-chairmen: Natalie Wood, Steve McQueen; entertainment chairman; Vic Damone.

So I went. The scene of the barbecue was a sportswear maker's estate in the heart of Beverly Hills.

No Smoke-Filled Room
Arriving at the same time were Warren Beatty and Leslie Caron, who were perhaps expecting a smoke-filled room. They were startled to find photographers snapping them, and they promptly turned around and left.

The big back yard was festive, with tables placed around the Roman pool, in the middle of which was a fern-covered float with LBJ spelled out in daisies. A rope barrier was strung around the pool, perhaps out of politicians' wariness of total immersion.

Action on the Court
The real action was on the tennis court, where the youthful crowd sipped beer or soft drinks, munched on ribs, chicken and cole slaw, and strained for glimpses of the more famous Democrats. Luci Baines obliged them by meeting the guests at each table. Perky in a white dress, her dark hair shielding one eye in what was once known as Veronica Lake style, she netted a blistered palm for her trouble.

The genial chairmen received visitors at a table. McQueen said he was strong for President Johnson but wouldn't be able to campaign much "because I'm representing our country in the European road races."

Unexpected Turnout
Miss Wood said she was proud to be on the steering committee of the Young Democrats for Johnson and, in show biz style, was counting the house. They hoped for 400 for the barbecue, had to turn away many after the 1,100 capacity was reached. Cost for the young Dems: $5 a head.

Soviet Astronauts Say Manned Space Flights Must Wait

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet cosmonauts Pavel Popovich and Andrian Nikolayev indicated today Russian manned spacecraft are not yet ready to venture beyond orbits of the earth.

The two space pilots dropped the hint in an interview with the Communist party paper Pravda marking the second anniversary of their paired flight around the earth.

The Pravda correspondent asked: "Recently the foreign press has said much about plans for new manned flights into space, especially to the moon. What can you say about this?"

Nikolayev expressed confidence that manned flights eventually would be made deep into space. But he added: "Not all orbits around the earth have yet been explored and evidently more flights will be made in the near cosmos and simultaneously reconnaissance will continue in outer space."

Slight Difference Between Movies And the Real Thing

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In the movies, when a mountain lion sneaks up behind the hero's stuntman, the stuntman turns as the lion leaps and throttles him with his bare hands.

But what does the stuntman do when a real-life lion sneaks up?

"Naturally. I called the police," said stuntman Irv Berniker.

Berniker spotted a snarling mountain lion on a ledge 15 yards above and behind him Monday as he stood in the back yard of his home in the Santa Monica Mountains.

Berniker told police he'd battled a mountain lion on television last week, but "wasn't about to fool around with the real thing."

Police said the animal escaped into the hills.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS 1 OUT OF 3 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms—tiny parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P.W. tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get Jayne's P.W. tablets... the special ones for children and adults.

Senator Biven Bayh D-Ind. at 36, fitted into the young assemblage with no difficulty. He said the rally "was one of 17 across the country "to get the teens, 20s and 30s onto the Johnson team." He is helping to spearhead the drive, but he added his duties do not include learning the Watusi.

Luci and the Watusi
Luci Baines displayed her Watusi style in a duet with McQueen to the thumping rhythm of the Whiskey a Go-Go combo. She performs with the proper loose-jointed, lip-biting intensity. McQueen gave her able support, being one of the local Watusi experts. Secret Service men, also looking intense, stood by.

Later Luci Baines and the stars made brief speeches, and Bayh urged the guests to join in a 2W campaign—Work and Watusi—and help register voters of Democratic leanings. He was cheered by his listeners including Shelley Winters, Tommy Sands and Nancy Sinatra, Nick Adams, Doug McClure, George Hamilton, Julie Newmar, James Darren and Don Murray.

Tom McGuire, Mary Agnes Truttschel and Ken Captain propose a toast in this scene from Attic Theatre's current production, 'The Glass Menagerie' by Tennessee Williams. The moving drama will be presented through Saturday at 8:15 p.m., and Sunday at 7:15 p.m., at the Lawrence University Music-Drama Center arena theater. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Man May Lose Bid to Return To Safe Place

GRiffin, Ga. (AP) — Police told them most of his friends say a 67-year-old man may have run into a stumbling block in his easier than on the outside.

plan to return to Georgia State Prison.

Officers said Walter K. Vickers tossed a rock through a post office window in a bid for another prison term. They said he said a 67-year-old man may have run into a stumbling block in his easier than on the outside.

Records show Vickers was in Georgia State Prison from 1959 until this year. However, damaging a post office is a federal offense.

Vickers could wind up in a federal prison without his friends after all.

John Van Druten Comedy Opens At Green Ram

"There's Always Juliet," John Van Druten's light-hearted, romantic comedy with an international flavor, opens at 8:30 p.m. Friday at the Green Ram Theatre, Baraboo. The play runs nightly through Tuesday.

Starring as Leonora, an attractive, young English lady who falls for a handsome American she has met at a tea party, is Arlyn Zeller. This season Miss Zeller has had leads in "Come Back, Little Sheba" and "Arsenic and Old Lace." A seventh-year resident, she teaches English and speech in Keno-sha.

Appearing as the handsome American, Dwight Houston, is first-year Green Ram resident Michael Doyle. Doyle received his training at New York University, the American Theatre Wing and the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art, London. He also toured the United States with Theatre Outlook of England.

Directed by guest director Julie Portman, the supporting cast includes Ashley Simmons and Herb Williams, both first-year residents.

Tickets are available at the Green Ram box office, route 3, Baraboo, or by calling ELM-wood 6-5727, Baraboo. The summer stock theatre is located midway between Baraboo and Wisconsin Dells on U. S. 12.

Virginian Hand Fights Temptation

BY TV SCOUT
6:30-8 (Channel 5)—The Virginian lets Doug McClure fight temptation for the better part of an hour while he escorts a lovely Swedish girl (Katherine Crawford) from Laramie to the ranch where she is supposed to meet and marry Lars (Peter Whitney). Fate throws the two of them together with a heavy hand when the girl decides to bathe in the river. (Color) Repeat.

7-7:30 (Channel 11)—Patty gets a ring to wear around her neck from her favorite beau (Eddie Applegate) over the raised-eyebrows of her parents on The Patty Duke Show. Repeat.

7:30-8 (Channel 11)—Katy Holstrom (Inger Stevens) on The Farmer's Daughter has problems she could share with Patty Duke. Although she is far from a teen-ager, Katy attracts the amorous attention of 13-year-old Steve Morley (Mickey Sholard). Repeat.

7:30-8 (Channel 2)—Keenan Wynn, as a gallant but glib newspaper reporter, discovers a hoodlum has given his life in defense of an innocent bystander on Suspense. Repeat.

8-9 (Channel 11)—Espionage breaks the language barrier with the twang of a jazz guitar. Ron Randall, a music man on a good-will tour of Russia, wins the heart of his Soviet interpreter (Dora Reisser) and the suspicion of her country's tone-deaf politicians, who think he is spying. Repeat.

8-9 (Channel 11)—Ben Casey meets up with a young man (Robert Walker) who is something of a saint. Only problem is that he has a blood clot and perhaps his saintliness will vanish with the clot. Repeat.

8:30-9 (Channel 12)—The Dick Van Dyke Show winds up its funny two-partter which has Sally Rogers (Rose Marie) leaving her writing chores with Rob and Buddy to seek a new life as an on-camera performer. Laura (Mary Tyler Moore) eagerly offers to take over her job. Repeat.

9-10 (Channel 2)—Rudy Vallee has Robert Horton as his special guest on Broadway Tonight.

9-10 (Channel 5)—The Eleventh Hour presents the finale flamed by her social ambitions of "Does Mother Have to and her mixed-up ideas on sex. Indonesia's Sukarno Has Survived Many Attempts on His Life

Despite Heavy Guard There Is No Sign
Of Widespread Unrest Against Leader

BY EDWIN Q. WHITE

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Troops with unsheathed bayonets took up positions along a busy Jakarta street. Sirens sounded and eight motorcycle police, four armored cars and nine jeeps filled with guards swept past. In the center of the convoy was the long, black limousine carrying the president of Indonesia. An American woman tourist looked on slightly wide-eyed, sin, but there is no evidence to suggest the heavy security indicates unrest that could lead to a revolution or that it is even a sign of widespread unpopularity.

Unrestricted Power While there are those who oppose Sukarno and the so-called guided democracy that gives him almost unrestricted powers, there is no significant open opposition. Any criticism of Sukarno is voiced guardedly and then only to persons in whom the critics have complete trust. Some who have been more forthright are no longer in this country, or are in jail.

No newspaper attacks the president personally. The government-run radio hails his policies in words and music. Listening to nearby Radio Malaysia is forbidden. Books critical of Sukarno have been burned or bared. Some American publications are banned.

Indonesia's 10 legal political parties, ranging from Communist to nationalist to religious, may bicker among themselves but they never assail the president or his actions. The Parliament is appointed. The last elections were held in 1955.

Major Strengths By utilizing fully his shrewd sense of balance and timing, Sukarno has been able to play off the country's major strengths against each other and has come out on top.

He is the only president Indonesia has had since independence was declared in 1945. Outwardly and officially, then, the answer to the lady's question is that Sukarno is popular. For all those voices abroad who denounce him as a demagogue or dictator, an expansionist and aggressor, there are Indonesians here who speak of him in terms of near worship.

The man in the street generally does not speak out on public issues or personalities. His mood, if it can be characterized probably is one of apathy. Here there are no fiery protest su-cides as in South Viet Nam, nor rock-throwing students as in South Korea. Any demonstrations are government-controlled and the government is Sukarno.

Greatest Concern For the man in the street or the peasant in the field, the matter of greatest concern is overwhelming economic difficulties. Despite a day to day problem of subsistence, there is no sign that the masses blame Sukarno personally.

Nor is there anything to indicate widespread public resentment of the fact that vast sums of money are poured into statues and fountains, or into building a giant sports complex, or drained off for military purposes.

In the face of rampant inflation, dwindling foreign exchange and repeated predictions from abroad of economic collapse, Sukarno goes before the people and says "Go to hell with collapse. Indonesia will never collapse."

His spellbinding relationship with an Indonesian audience cannot be ruled out in any attempt to assess his support. He comes into his element in public appearances.

Extra Phrase In his speeches in Bahasa Indonesia, the national language, Sukarno often throws in an English word or phrase, repeating it and slowly enunciating each syllable. Sometimes an extra phrase will be in French or German or Dutch.

At times he will burst into a

"Remember when we were Campfire Girls and the most important thing in our life was selling chocolate mints?"

BY RUSSELL LANE

CHICAGO (AP)—Last winter, Leamond L. Fuwell, 29, bought a new refrigerator and put the old refrigerator on the back porch of his apartment.

Because he has three children, aged 3 to 7, he tied the door shut with plastic-coated clotheslines.

Last Friday, three small children of George Hartman, 30, who lives in the basement apartment beneath the Fuwells, climbed into the old box. The door closed, the children died.

An epilogue to the short lives of Cynthia Hartman, 4, and her brothers, Joseph, 5, and Marty, 6, was written Monday. An inquest jury ruled that they died accidentally.

No Evidence The inquiry established no evidence as to what happened to the rope Fuwell tied around the old refrigerator. Probably, at some time during the months the appliance sat on the back porch, someone needed the line for something else.

A Mass of the Angels will be said for the youngsters Wednesday. The deaths pointed up a problem that affects children everywhere in the nation. It has not been solved despite federal legislation requiring push-out doors on refrigerators made since 1958, and state laws requiring that doors be removed from discarded refrigerators.

Not Discarded Fuwell's refrigerator had not been discarded. It was just idle, and stored on his property.

Each year, a dozen or more children die of suffocation in idle refrigerators. In 1962, the toll reached a high of 35.

The death-trap problem first became a widespread concern in the 1930s when old ice boxes were being discarded as the electric refrigerator was winning acceptance.

It surged again after World War II when resumption of civilian appliance manufacturing spurred a slough-off of over-age electric coolers.

Last year's boom in refrigerator sales again heightened the menace of abandoned boxes.

Coast Guard Pulls Woman From Mud SEATTLE (AP)—Although it handled 105 cases over the weekend, the 13th Coast Guard District coasted into some unguarded moments.

Hurrying to investigate a "body" bobbing in the surf at Depoe Bay, Ore., Coast Guardsmen found a seal.

Some 10 miles south of Newport, Ore., two elderly women picked the wrong spot to dig for clams.

Mrs. Josephine Bruening, 76, got stuck in the mud. The Coast Guard pulled her out.

Juan Pizarro flexes his muscles for teammates Bill Skowron, left, and Pete Ward, right, after pitching and batting the Chicago White Sox to an 8-2 win in the second game of a doubleheader sweep over New York at Yankee Stadium Tuesday night. Pizarro hurled a 5-hitter to gain his 15th win, tops in the American League, and slugged a three-run homer. Skowron and Ward each collected three hits in the nightcap. (AP Wirephoto)

Chisox Whip Yankees Twice As Ward and Pizarro Star

Powell, Bowens Homer in 8-7 Baltimore Win

BY HAL BOCK

Manager Yogi Berra isn't reaching for the panic button yet. It wouldn't be the thing to do in the staid, gray flannel world of New York Yankee supremacy.

But you'll have to forgive Berra if he's wondering just a bit. He's been a Yankee for 17 years and he's seen pennant races reach into August before. That's where the similarity between his club which lost a day-night doubleheader to the Chicago White Sox 6-4 and 8-2 Tuesday, and former Yankee teams seems to end.

For August is usually the month the Yankees guns unload and New York pulls away from the rest of the American League to stake its annual claim to the pennant. But this year, Berra's Bombers seem to be packing water pistols instead of heavy artillery.

Ward Leads
The White Sox, who had lost 10 straight to New York, weren't about to extend that string. Pete Ward stroked three hits including his 17th home run and drove in four runs as Chicago snapped the streak with the afternoon victory.

They were even more convincing in the nightcap as Ward had three more hits and Juan Pizarro fired a five-hitter winning his 15th game. Pizarro added insult to injury by capping a five-run Chicago burst in the sixth inning with his third homer of the year — a three-run shot into the right field bleachers.

The double victory pulled the White Sox to within one game of the league-leading Baltimore Orioles who edged the Boston Red Sox 8-7. Elsewhere in the American League, Washington whipped Kansas City 5-2, Minnesota downed Detroit 5-3 and

Aaron Powers Braves To 9-6 Win Over Colts With 2 Homers, 5 RBIs

Spahn Fails Again, But Relief Hurling Is Strong Enough

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Hank Aaron has put a home run punch into another drive by Milwaukee Braves to get out of the second division.

Aaron drove in five runs with a pair of home runs Tuesday night as the Braves made the best of an uphill fight and defeated the Houston Colts 9-6.

The homers raised Aaron's total for the season to 20, and pushed his career count to 362, moving him past Joe DiMaggio into 14th place on the all-time list.

Sadowski Gets Win
Warren Spahn was back in the starting rotation for the first time since July 26, but for the 14th time in his last 15 starts he failed to finish. The 43-year-old left-hander was belted out in the fifth, after giving the Colts all but one of their runs.

Reliever Bob Sadowski got the victory with help from Wade Blasingame, who worked the final three innings, giving up the Colts' final run. Sadowski is 6 and 7. His success marked the first triumph for the sixth-place Braves in seven games with the ninth-place Colts.

The Colts employed four hurlers, starter Ken Johnson taking his 12th loss in 20 decisions. He was driven out as the Braves exploded for six runs in the sixth inning.

The Colts took the lead in the first inning on Al Spangler's leadoff homer, his fourth of the season. The Braves went ahead in the third when Lee Maye beat out a roller and Aaron homered over the wall in left.

Bolling Gets RBI
Spangler's two-run double in the fourth gave the Colts the lead again. But Milwaukee tied the count in its share of the inning. Rico Carty singled and eventually scoring on Frank Bolling's sacrifice fly.

Walt Bond's 16th home run, a two-run blast, put the Colts in front again in the fifth and sent Spahn to the showers. The Braves had to wait for their big sixth to decide the issue.

With one away, Carty walked and Denis Menke singled before Bolling flied out. Felipe Alou batted for Sadowski and singled, scoring Carty. After Claude Raymond took over for Johnson, Ed Mathews walked to fill the bases. A single by Maye scored Menke and Alou and brought Hal Woodeshick to the mound.

Aaron's next homer cleared the bases.

A walk and a pair of singles gave the Colts a ninth inning run.

Tony Cloninger will seek his 11th victory against as many defeats in tonight's game, facing Dick Farrell, 11 and 7.

Spahn Admits He Was Lousy, Will Head Back to the Bullpen

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Misery record, would return to relief duty and make spot starts.

"Spahn's got the same trouble," said Bragan. "He still doesn't have control of his screwball (the veteran's best pitch). He felt he had the trouble all figured out, but he didn't have enough break on the screwie."

The Colts' Al Spangler, a former Brave who greeted Spahn with a leadoff home run, said, "He's not getting the ball where he wants to—as he used to do."

Packers, Giants Cut Loose in 'Charities' Tilt

Offenses Ready To Explode for Both Contingents

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — The Packers and Giants are undergoing the same uneasiness this week... since they're both losers.

We have no pipeline to Fairfield, Conn., where the New Yorkers are training, but it can be stated without fear of contradiction (sounds like a political warmup) that the Giants are twitchin' and frettin' a bit these days — just like the Packers.

New York and Green Bay approach the Bishop's Charities game at City Stadium Saturday night with another similarity: they each scored seven points in their openers. The Giants lost to Minnesota 21-7 and the Packers dropped a 20-7 verdict to St. Louis.

The manner in which the two normally high scoring teams made their TDs was different, however... and here's the edge for our side.

The Giants got their TD on a 108-yard kickoff return by Clarence Childs... which means that their offense was shut out.

The Packers offense did a lot of moving, missed a field goal, and scored the one TD on a nifty 71-yard, 13-play drive which featured the running of Frank Mestnik, Tom Moore and Bart Starr, the passing of Starr and the receiving of Max McGee, Boyd Dowler and Ron Kramer, who scored the touchdown.

Fox Lutheran Gridders Will Meet Tonight

Fox Valley Lutheran High School will begin preparations for the 1964 football season with a meeting of all candidates at 7 p.m. today in FVL gymnasium.

All candidates should report to the meeting, according to Head Coach Dave Umms. The upcoming season, insurance and equipment issuance will be discussed.

Equipment will be issued to varsity candidates Thursday, Friday and Saturday, from 9 a.m. to noon.

Practices will start Monday morning. Practices will be held five days a week until the opening game with Weyauwega Sept. 5. The contest, which will be played on the FVL gridiron, will be the first opener in Fox Lutheran history played before the actual opening of school.

Ken Iman Suffers Ankle Fracture

Iman, fighting for the starting center berth with Ken Kirk, was taken to a hospital to determine the extent of his injury. No estimate was given as to how long he will be sidelined.

Vin Scotti, Rams starting defensive back, received a broken wrist in the same practice.

Entries Must be Submitted by Aug. 22; Warobick Current Titlist

The entry deadline for the champion, Warobick won the '63 Aug. 30-31 Northeastern Wisconsin Open Golf tournament, to be held at the Oneida Golf and Riding Club in Green Bay, is Saturday, Aug. 22.

The tournament is open to members of Northeastern Wisconsin Golf Association clubs, professionals at those clubs and juniors who are sons of regular members and reside within the confines of the defined territory.

All entries are to be mailed to Dan Steinberg Jr., NEWGA Secretary, P. O. Box 1105, Appleton. The entry fee is $15, and includes the price of the harvest supper on the opening night of the tournament.

The tourney is billed for 36 holes. The team best-ball event and first 18 holes of medal play are scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 30. The final 18 holes will be played Aug. 31.

Twelve prizes will be awarded to the professionals, and prizes will go to the low 25 amateurs. Manitowoc Branch River pro Lou Warobick is the defending

X-Rays of Rojas, Gonzalez Show No Broken Bones

CHICAGO (AP) — X-rays of injured Philadelphia outfielders Cookie Rojas and Tony Gonzalez were negative Tuesday at Wesley Memorial Hospital.

Rojas injured both wrists when he ran into the center field wall in the third inning of a 13-5 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

Gonzalez, who replaced Rojas, was hit on his protective helmet in the sixth inning by pitcher Dick Ellsworth.

Rojas was immediately re-leased from the hospital, but Gonzalez was held overnight for observation.

Woitkowski Wallops 2 Home Runs

The Fox Cities Foxes maintained a 3-game lead over Quad Cities in the Midwest League's second round pennant chase with an 11-3 victory at Quincy Tuesday night.

Quad Cities managed a 9-6 win over Dubuque.

The Foxes return to Goodland Field tonight to begin an 8-game 5-day home stand. They meet the Burlington Bees in doubleheaders tonight and Thursday night, then entertain Clinton in four weekend games.

Ed Hawkins and Al (Sparky) Lyle will start on the mound for the Foxes tonight in the "Advertisers" Baseball Party Night" double bill that starts at 6:30 p.m. Many prizes will be awarded, including wrist watches to the man and the women who most closely estimate tonight's attendance.

Ray Woitkowski, (with two) Dave May and John Sepich backed the 7-hit pitching of Jim Jankow with home runs en route to the 11-3 romp. Jankow hurled the distance and fanned eight while walking three.

Glen Mattison started Quincy off with a 1-0 lead on a solo homer in the bottom of the third. The Foxes tied the count on Woitkowski's first circuit smash in the top of the fifth. Quincy bounced back to lead 2-1 in the bottom of the fifth when losing pitcher Gary Lewis singled and scored on Mattison's double to

Phils Wallop Cubs, As Callison Hits Grand Slam Homer

Remain 3 Games Ahead; Giants Defeat Cardinals, 6-3

BY MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Editor

It was a bad night for the New York Yankees all around. Even Joe DiMaggio was knocked down a peg.

While the Chicago White Sox whipped the Yankees in a doubleheader, Milwaukee's Hank Aaron whipped past the Yankee Clipper into 14th place on the all-time home run list, hammering his 19th and 20th of the season as the Braves walloped Houston 9-6 Tuesday night.

The homers lifted Aaron's career total to 362—one more than DiMaggio—and shoved the 30-year-old right-handed swinger into the National League spotlight that has been focusing almost steadily on the tight pennant struggle between Philadelphia and San Francisco.

Now Batting .314

Aaron's outstanding performances over the last half of the season have gone virtually unnoticed, but he has been hitting at a .355 clip since June 21 and climbed into the No. 6 spot in the league with a .314 average. In the 48 games over that stretch, he has driven in 45 runs.

While Aaron continued his heavy hitting for Milwaukee, Johnny Callison did the same for league-leading Philadelphia, slugging the first grand slam of the season by the Phillies and adding two doubles in a 13-5 walloping of the Chicago Cubs.

The victory kept the Phillies three games in front of the San Francisco Giants, but may have cost them the services of outfielders Cookie Rojas and Tony Gonzalez, the latest additions to an ever-growing injury list.

Rojas jammed both wrists when he ran into the center field wall chasing a fly ball and Gonzalez, his replacement, was hit on his protective helmet by a Dick Ellsworth pitch. Both players were taken to the hospital, but the injuries were not considered serious.

Other Games

The Giants rode homers by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda to a 6-3 victory over St. Louis, the Cincinnati Reds edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2 on homers by Frank Robinson and Deron Johnson and the New York Mets defeated Pittsburgh 3-2 in a game halted after 7½ innings by rain.

Frank Thomas slammed three doubles for his new Philadelphia teammates, driving in three runs for a 3-0 lead but the Cubs came back to move in front on homers by Andre Rodgers and Ernie Banks.

Callison then broke it up with his grand slam, capping a five-run rally touched off by Gus Triandos' homer. The two homers left the Cubs Ellsworth, a 22-game winner last season, with a 12-14 record.

Mays Hits 33rd

Harvey Kuenn collected three doubles for the Giants, triggered three rallies and scored three runs. He came home on Hal Lanier's single in the first and Cepeda followed with his 20th homer. In the third Kuehn scored on Mays' 33rd homer and in the seventh he was driven in on a sacrifice fly by

Sam Bowens Developing Into Solid Performer for Orioles

BY GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP) — Without first season, with 15 homers and 53 runs batted in.

Bowens, in 75 less times at bat, is currently batting .280 with 14 homers and 47 RBI. He is third on the club in all three departments, with Brooks Robinson leading in hitting and Powell in home runs and RBI.

He socked a two-run homer Wednesday night as the Orioles came from behind to edge the Boston Red Sox 8-7 and maintain a one-game lead over the Chicago White Sox in the tight American League race.

Bowens also circled the bases to tie the score 6-6 after blooming a single in the sixth. A great pick-up on the dead run by center fielder Carl Yastrzemski trapped Sam between bases, but a wild throw by first baseman Dick Stuart allowed Bowens to complete the circuit with a big run.

Powell's 30th homer, an opposite field blast which upped his RBI total to 74, broke the tie in the seventh.

A two-out double by Yastrzemski and Stuart's fourth single scored the final Boston run in the eighth. Bowens fielded the short hit, but didn't throw to the plate for a possible play on Yastrzemski.

"It would have been close, anyway," said the thinking man's rookie. "But, if I made a bad throw, Stuart could have gone to second with the tying run."

"Sam's getting better all the time in the field," Bauer said.

Game Club to Release Birds This Weekend

Members of the Outagamie County Conservation Club will release pheasants on public and private land throughout the county Friday and Saturday, according to Dale Morey, conservation warden.

Persons in the area who have property on which birds can be released for hunting this fall should contact Marvin Sampson, Black Creek, no later than Friday.

Property where birds are released cannot be posted this fall, club officials warned.

Bears' Rookies Will See Action

Halas Says He Was Unable to Use Them In All-Star Contest

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — Three members of the College All-Star squad who now are with the Chicago Bears will see considerable duty against the Washington Redskins in a National Football League exhibition game at Richmond, Va., Saturday night.

This was indicated by Bear Owner-Coach George Halas Monday. The three are Dick Evey of Tennessee, who will be at left tackle or left guard, Chuck Logan of Northwestern, spread end, and Mike Riley, of Iowa, corner linebacker.

Halas said the Bears were so pressed in defeating the All-Stars 28-17 in Chicago's Soldier Field last Friday that he did not have a chance to use as many players as he had intended. Those who didn't see much action can expect to see more against Washington.

Included in this group probably will be Winston Kelton of Wiley, Tex., a marine veteran who has been working some at left halfback, Willie Galimore's old spot. Billy Martin also is being used there. Ronnie Bull held the position in the All-Star game.

Halas said one of the main items in preparing for Washington is polishing up pass defense.

White Sox End Jinx, Whip Yanks Twice

Cleveland shut out Los Angeles 2-0.

The losses dropped the third place Yankees 3 1/2 games off the pace, gave them five defeats in six games against Baltimore and Chicago in the last week and left Berra worried.

"Club Is Down" "The club is down," the rookie manager said. "We're not tired. We're just in a rut. We're just not hitting. We can't seem to get that big inning. We picked a heck of a time to run into a slump."

It's a heck of a time indeed. The club is in the midst of a two-week stretch during which they play the Orioles and White Sox exclusively. After Aug. 20 they won't meet either team again.

Baltimore got three two-run homers — the last one Boog Powell's 30th circuit of the season — to whip the Red Sox. Brooks Robinson and Sam Bowens also connected for the Orioles who beat relief ace Dick Radatz.

Powell's shot in the seventh inning came on a 1-2 pitch with two out and broke a tie that was created when Robinson clouted his 16th an inning earlier.

King, Lock Homer Jim King and Don Lock homered to back up Claude Osteen's pitching for the Senators' victory. Osteen, who won his 11th, was replaced by Jim Hannan in the seventh. Nelson Mathews homered for the Athletics in the ninth.

Earl Batley drove in three runs and Tony Oliva slammed his 26th homer as the Twins snapped a seven-game Tiger winning streak. Detroit built an early lead around Don Demeter's 15th homer but Hank Aguirre (2-6) couldn't hold it.

Rookie Luis Tiant won his fifth game, a four-hitter, and Max Alvis belted a three-run homer in the ninth inning for all the runs as the Indians blanked the Angels. Alvis' shot, his 13th homer of the season, was the third baseman's first hit since returning to the line-up after missing a month because of spinal meningitis.

Injuries to Giants Force Two Changes

Rookie Speedster Will Start Against Packers at Flanker

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — The New York Giants, who unveiled a speedster last week who took a kickoff back 108 yards for a touchdown in his first try, will feature another one Saturday night against the Green Bay Packers. And this one is even faster.

Homer Jones from Texas Southern, who took a sprint decision over the great Bob Hayes in his college days, will start for the Giants at flanker and may play the entire game at Green Bay.

A rash of injuries, suffered in practice and in the exhibition loss against the Minnesota Vikings last Saturday, opened the way for Jones.

Mosconi, Billiards Great, to Appear at New Gold Cushion

Willie Mosconi, one of the all-time billiards greats, will appear at the grand opening of

Willie Mosconi the Gold Cushion, 519 W. College Avenue, Sunday, Aug. 23. Mosconi won the world's pocket billiards championship in 1941, 1942, 1943-4, 1950-3 and 1955. He retired from tournament play in '58 and is now on the advisory staff of a large sports equipment manufacturing firm.

The new Gold Cushion will have 13 billiards tables. Monday and Tuesday, a tournament will be held for all Fox Valley players. The champion will oppose Mosconi in an exhibition match at 7 p.m. Aug. 23.

At 2 p.m. Aug. 23, Mosconi will present a clinic and will also perform some of his famed trick shots.

Mosconi holds many records, the most spectacular of which is the scoring a high run of 526 to set a world's exhibition record. He had held the old mark of 365.

The "machine-gun" shot is one of Mosconi's favorites. He employs a force follow with side "English," which caroms the cue ball off each of the 15 other balls before counting on corner pocket shot.

Joe Kuharich Builds New Eagles Team

Coch Hopes New Players Will Give Team Needed Lift

BY JACK HAND
HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles are all shook up. A series of deals by Joe Kuharich, the new head coach, swept out such old familiar faces as Sonny Jurgensen and Tommy McDonald and replaced them with Norm Snead, Earl Gros, Red Mack and a host of rookies.

Things are in a state of flux in the Eagles' training camp because everybody is new. There is a new owner, Jerry Wolman, new coaching staff, new system and new personnel. Most important, Kuharich hopes, is a new spirit.

Better Running Game
"We know we have an uphill struggle," said the former Notre Dame coach. "We are behind everybody else but we hope to improve on last year's cellar record of 2-10-2. We have a young front line on offense with the exception of Jim Ringo and Pete Retzlaff. Basically we will be a blend of the old and the new."

"We just couldn't go along with the defense they had last year. The worst thing is to score 24 or 28 points and still get beat. Your defense should be able to hold the other team to between 21 and 24 points."

The addition of Gros, a fine fullback from Green Bay, plus the speed and drive of Tim Brown, the holdover halfback, gives the Eagles a more powerful running game. Kuharich expects help from Ollie Matson, his old San Francisco U. protegee who was acquired from Detroit.

Norm Snead, the quarterback who came from Washington in the deal for Jurgensen, will have split ends Ron Goodwin and Ray Poage, tight end Retzlaff

Blaik, Rote Head List in Hall of Fame

10 College Grid Stars Added by Football Group

BY TED SMITS
NEW YORK (AP) — Ten more names were added today to the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame, including Earl H. Blaik, former coach at Dartmouth and Army who originated the lonely end formation. The players honored were Charles O. Carroll, University of Washington halfback 1926-28; Ray R. Evans, Kansas University halfback 1941-46-47; Robert J. Herwig, University of California center 1935-37; Allison Hubert, University of Alabama fullback 1922-25; William N. Mallory, Yale University fullback 1921-23; William Kyle Rote, Southern Methodist University halfback 1948-50; W. Earl Sprackling, Brown University quarterback 1908-11; Langdon Lea, Princeton tackle, 1892-95; and Charles R. Rinehart, Lafayette guard, 1894-97. Lea, Rinehart and Mallory are dead.

The football greats of yesterday were selected by an honor court headed by Fred Russell, sports editor and vice-president of the Nashville Banner, and announced by Chester J. LaRoche, foundation president.

The selections bring the total of players in the Hall of Fame to 172, and coaches to 51.

The men will be formally inducted at the foundation's annual dinner here Dec. 8 when Donald B. Lourie, Princeton quarterback of 1919-21, will receive the foundation's gold medal award.

College football's Hall of Fame will be built at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N.J.

2 National Champions
Blaik, now an executive of Avco Corp., had a record of 45 victories, 14 defeats and 5 ties in seven years at Dartmouth. At Army his teams compiled a mark of 121-33-10 from 1941 through 1958, winning the national championships in 1944 and 1945 when he had Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis in his backfield.

Among the modern players honored, Carroll, now prosecuting attorney of King's County, Seattle, was top scorer on the Pacific Coast for three years. Evans, a Kansas City banker, was the nation's leading passer in 1942 when he completed 101 out of 198.

Rote, now a New York sports commentator after a brilliant professional career with the New York Giants, holds the post-war scoring and ground-gaining records at SMU. Sprackling, who has retired as president of the Anaconda Wire and Cable Co., was acclaimed as the finest football player Brown ever had.

Toronto Sells Oshkosh's Koplitz To Tacoma in PCL

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League announced four among Riley Gunneis, John Meyers (ex - Dallas), Floyd Peters (ex - Detroit) and George Tarasovic.

The lineabacking crew probably will include Ralph Heck, Dave Lloyd and Maxie Baughan. Glenn Glass (ex-Pittsburgh) and Irv Cross at the corners and Nate Ramsey and Don Burroughs at safety are the likely deep backs but there will be changes all season.

Sam Baker, veteran acquired from Dallas in the McDonald deal, will do the punting and placekicking.

Monday they have signed a shortstop Don Buddin.

Buddin has played with Richmond and Rochester of the International League, with Indianapolis and Denver of the Pacific Coast League and Boston of the American League.

The Leafs also sold pitcher Howie Koplitz to Tacoma of the PCL, and placed pitcher Marshall Bridges on the 30-day disabled list.

Otto Graham Says Brown Doesn't Block

Former Cleveland QB Concedes Jim's Ability

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—The Cleveland Browns will retain the services of Jim Brown at fullback despite the advice of former Cleveland quarterback Otto Graham.

Graham suggested Tuesday at a luncheon in Canton, Ohio, that Brown should be traded because of failure to block or fake.

Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier and owner Arthur Modell reacted as if Graham had asked them to sell their children into slavery. Brown took it like a slap on the shoulder pad by a 180-pound defensive back.

"I feel that this isn't important because Otto has no connection with pro football or the Browns," said Brown. "I feel this is just like a statement from any football fan, and any fan has a right to his opinion."

Graham had conceded that Brown is a "great athlete and he could block, but he doesn't. This is ridiculous."

"The Browns will not win anything as long as Brown is in there. Now chew on that for a while," Graham told about 150 people at a National Football League Hall of Fame gathering.

"It is obvious that Otto Graham is not the coach of the Browns," said Modell of the Guard Academy. "The charge that Jim doesn't fake is ridiculous."

The Republican Platform on Extremism

Melvin Laird, Wisconsin's able congressman from Marshfield, has come up with a believable and interesting interpretation of why the national Republican convention rejected the so-called "extremism amendments" proposed by the Scranton forces for the party's 1964 platform. Several newspaper columnists and television commentators have interpreted the convention's shouting down of these amendments as "a refusal to repudiate views and tactics commonly called extremist."

Laird says "a fair reading of the two amendments presented to the convention makes it clear that the issue was not presented in the terms in which it is generally described in the press." As Laird explained, the effect of the amendments was to give the American public the idea that the Republican Party is in danger of being infiltrated by "totalitarian groups and to repudiate the efforts of such groups to seize positions of responsibility in the Republican Party and to attach themselves to Republican candidates for office."

Laird explained, and quite reasonably so, that if these amendments had been adopted, the Republican delegates would have been expressing the conviction that their party was in peril of being subverted by extremists and that the Democratic Party was not. The great majority of the delegates refused to do this.

Laird repeated a point made by Rep.

John Byrnes of Green Bay who spoke in behalf of the party platform before the convention. Byrnes said, "Are we to accept the charge that the Republican Party is in danger of being taken over by the very ideas its platform denounces? Is this party going to demean itself by insinuating in its platform that irresponsible and extreme ideas can prevail among us?"

Here, in our opinion, is the crux of the argument. Opponents of the platform say the GOP leadership denies the existence of extremists in its ranks. Byrnes did not say this. He emphatically stated that "extremist ideas cannot prevail in the party," but he didn't deny their existence. Certainly, extreme liberal ideas are possessed by some members of the Democratic Party. Yet the Democratic Party is not prevailed upon by extreme liberal or leftist ideals. So, what the Republican Party did was to reject the amendments which implied that only Republicans were in danger of extremist infiltration.

The "extremist amendments" were nothing but a poorly conceived, eleventh hour attempt by anti-Goldwater forces to stop the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater by embarrassing his supporters. This they failed to do. Instead, they damaged their own party in the eyes of the American public by injecting a very confused and improper issue into the convention.

Destroying Goldwater Sign Is Symbol of Liberal Extremism

Editor, Post-Crescent:

On Tuesday evening, July 29, there was erected in the village of Sherwood a 72 x 48 inch sign which was lettered with the words: "Goldwater for President." On Sunday, Aug. 2, this sign was torn down. It was repaired and replaced the following day. The vandals struck again on Wednesday, Aug. 5. The sign was again replaced but the destroyers of private property again demonstrated their lack of values and damaged the sign beyond repair on Friday, Aug. 7.

We have seen in these incidents two very glaring problems facing this area and the nation. The one problem is the lack of control resulting in vandalism and the second is the narrow-mindedness, the bigotry, the hate, and the lack of respect for the opinions of others shown by some of those who oppose the Republican candidate. Surely we expect opposition for that is the freedom of the American system. To what extent this opposition extends is, however, another issue.

The liberals have constantly cried for full freedom of expression. Why did they not respect it here? The liberals have consistently pleaded for the protection of society and the common good. Does lawlessness aid either society or the common good? The liberals have made an issue out of what they call extremism? The answer to these questions lies in the fact that the liberals believe only in their personal freedom. They believe their cause is the only true and correct way for this country. Their illogical beliefs go to the point of the denial of the very things which they profess as a creed and to the extremist idea of the destruction of opposition. This results in their public utterances being nothing but sheer hypocrisy.

The American people have the opportunity to turn these hypocrites from the temple. This country does not want or need leadership from those who do not practice their beliefs. If they do not carry out their basic beliefs through actions, how can we ever place our trust in their hands? The truth is that we do not want their leadership and we cannot believe in their election year, pro-statism, anti-freedom harangues which are disguised and hidden behind a falsely constructed sense of national security.

The previously mentioned destructive incidents in the small rural community of Sherwood will be magnified many times over throughout the campaign. These incidents will grow and the vandalism and bigotry against Senator Goldwater will spread. Surely if these actions are proceeding in the less populated areas and this early in the campaign, we will see more such examples of hatred.

Therefore, the people of the Fox Valley and the entire nation should very well be able to see the hypocrisy of the liberal dialogue. After viewing this hypocrisy the concerned voter should be able to go forward and elect a man who stands on principle and who believes firmly in a nation guided by law. This man is Senator Barry Goldwater.

To Whoever Killed Dog: Why Couldn't You Stop?

Editor, Post-Crescent:

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is for whoever was driving on West Capitol Drive a week ago Thursday (July 23), and killed our black and white Boston Terrier dog.

Why didn't you stop and tell us? We found the dog on Monday after spending hours looking for her for four days. We'd also called the two local radio stations, and they were good enough to announce several times that the dog was lost. Also, we had just put an ad in the paper on the day we found her. It really isn't the time, or money spent by people that hurts, but the fact that we hoped to see the dog come running out from somewhere all the while we were looking, when here there was no hope that she would. Also, the worry during two thunderstorms about where she was.

We realize the dog didn't belong on the road, but still, if you didn't have time to stop, couldn't you at least have taken the name and address from the mailbox, and written, or called? Then we wouldn't worry that the dog suffered before she died, or that maybe we could have saved her if we'd known about it.

It's too late for our pet, but maybe if and when you run over something again, you will be good enough to stop.

Maybe I've said too much, but then, maybe next time you run over something, it won't be "only a dog."

Wisconsin Report

Seeking Public Office Becomes Profession With Some Candidates

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—When your correspondent was in college, the University of Wisconsin campus had numbers of residents who were known as professional students. They tarried long after graduation, because Madison was a pleasant place to live, sometimes because they preferred the leisurely life of the university circle to the indifferent job opportunities of the era, and sometimes simply because they couldn't find other employment.

Presumably that phenomenon of the college community is now extinct, but it sometimes appears that there is a parallel in the professional candidate in the campaign years. In one election list after another as the periodical ballots are printed are found listed the names of men who patiently file for high offices which are obviously beyond their reach — obviously, at least, to everyone except themselves.

EXAMPLES

The Democratic primary election ballot in September, as an example, will list the names of three "candidates" for the party's nomination for U.S. senator.

They are Sen. William Proxmire, the incumbent who has held the office since he won it in a special election in 1957, Kenneth F. Klinkert of Menomonee Falls, and Arlyn F. Wollenburg of Oshkosh.

Presumably Sen. Proxmire is widely recognized as the leading public official and energetic campaigner that he is.

But what may be the motives and the rationale of Klinkert and Wollenburg, who are fairly representative of the minor and hopelessly obscure candidates who regularly turn up as aspirants for the highest office in Wisconsin elections? They are legally qualified. The requirements are simple.

Why Does the Hero Outdraw the Villain?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Watching a Western on television, my boy wanted to know why the hero always outdraws the villain in a gunfight. He is reaching the age of cynicism about good and evil, where he questions the unvarying triumph of goodness on the screen.

After trying to explain to him some of the mythic and moralistic qualities of fiction, I mentioned that there also is some basis in truth for the fact that the hero outdraws the villain, their proficiency being nearly equal.

This fascinating theory was devised by Prof. Niels Bohr, perhaps the outstanding physicist of our age, who won the Nobel Prize while he was still in his 30's. In his book, "Biography of Physics," George Gamow tells us that Bohr was an ardent devotee of Western movies.

He theorized that even though the villain draws first, the hero is faster and shoots him down because the villain has to decide when to grab for his gun, while the hero acts faster because he acts without thinking, when he sees the villain reach for his gun.

His colleagues laughed at this, and Gamow bought a pair of guns from a toy shop to refute the theory — whereupon Bohr succeeded in "kill-on the track."

Racial Conflicts in Asia

The industrious Chinese are causing some worries in Asia that may not be directly tied to the aggressive tendencies of the Peking government.

Long before Mao Tse Tung led his forces out of Sinkiang to take over control of the mainland of China, Chinese individuals had immigrated to various parts of Asia. Among peoples who often were lazy or at least uninterested in hard work due to religious principles or traditions, the Chinese quickly became community leaders especially of the business areas. They also seldom were assimilated into other cultures. They remained in their own areas, segregated by preference.

Now, however, this exclusivity is threatening various countries of Asia, independent and controlled by other Asian peoples. The split is not so much an ideological one, although there may be elements of Red infiltration into some Chinese communities. It is more racial.

The Summer of Discontent

One time when the late President Kennedy was troubled with problems of the world and the nation he referred to the "winter of discontent." Recently, in one of his most moving and perceptive speeches, President Johnson referred to the "summer of discontent."

In an informal talk to a group of educators at the White House, he posed a question which is gnawing at millions of Americans.

"Why is it," the President asked, "that the most prosperous, the best housed, the best fed, the best read, the most intelligent and the most secure generation in all history is discontent? Why is it that this virus of discontent is infecting the whole of our society?"

The President then suggested that we could find the answer in past American history. He referred to an unbroken trait in our national character that in times of crisis and turmoil and dissension we have always put the resources at hand to the fullest use. And he suggested that in our present impatience at not being able to find quick and easy answers to large and complex problems we are experiencing this discontent because we are not putting our capacities to work.

This summer, he went on, the nation faces no new problems, just old ones that we have refused to face up to and refused to meet. Then he reached deeper for a solution. "If we are learning anything from our experiences, we are learning that it is time for us to go to work, and the first work of these times and the first work of our society is education. We—no less than generations of Americans before us—must put our faith in education at all levels for all of the people."

The President concluded by saying that the federal government is now engaged in a mammoth study of how the national government can exert leadership in this area. But his words should also act as inspiration at the local level and at the state level.

We in Wisconsin should know whereof he speaks. We are going through a quiet revolution in our thinking about our educational systems and responsibilities. We are probing the new roles demanded by these times on our local school systems. We are reevaluating the course of higher education throughout the state.

It is our job here in the Fox Cities and in Wisconsin to take the real leadership in seeing to it that through an educational program tailored for all our people no individual is condemned to second class citizenship.

Gas Discovered on County Farm

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Aug. 11, 1864.

Mr Silas J. Roubeshush, who lives a half mile west of the city, came into town much excited, reporting that his well is on fire and requesting the aid of the Fire Company and Engine to put it out.

Upon inquiry it was found that there was no water near the scene of conflagration, and consequently the hose and engine, and red shirts would be useless. As the next best thing, a body of scouts was sent forward to reconnoitre and report.

On arriving upon the ground we found the report true and the fire blazing from the mouth of the well, roaring and seething like a seven times heated furnace. It was so hot it was impossible to approach within several feet of the well.

The fire was finally smothered out and we were able to give the phenomenon a closer examination. It seems the well had been stoned up and in use for 15 years, supplying the family with water until lately, when it gave out under the influence of the very dry weather, although 27 feet deep.

Mr Roubeshush then procured an augur and commenced boring into the bottom of the well. He had bored down about 31 feet, when, as he expressed it, he heard a "roaring and a rumbling as if a train of cars were coming, and immediately the gas rushed up with great force, accompanied with water that had run into the bottom of the well into the augur hole."

As may be supposed, Mr Roubeshush immediately sought the upper air. It was set on fire at the suggestion of a neighbor to try and see if it would burn.

It has been fired several times since to gratify the curiosity of new visitors who frequently visit the spot.

On Tuesday evening last a large number of ladies and gentlemen went out in carriages. The hole has been partially stopped and the gas does not come out with as much force as at first.

The gas has little odor and smells more like kerosene than sulphurated hydrogen.

Will it not be wonderful if oil is found on boring deeper?

Computer Aids Work Of Court and Judges

BY H. L. SCHWARTZ III
PITTSBURGH (AP) —

The wheels of justice grind faster in Allegheny County these days thanks to a computer and a man whose mind, associates say, works like one.

The system is the brainchild of Judge Henry Ellenbogen, Vienna-born president judge of the Allegheny County Common Pleas Court.

The court, with 19 judges and 204 fulltime employees, is the eighth largest metropolitan court in the United States.

Case Backlog

Oppressed by the heavy backlog of civil cases such as plagues courts across the country, Ellenbogen ordered a study of the problem soon after becoming president judge less than two years ago.

He said the need of a computer to speed administrative tasks became apparent almost immediately.

The computer operation began in October 1963 with an order from Judge Ellenbogen that thereafter all attorneys would have to fill out special cards for each case. Each attorney also was assigned a number.

Since then the case backlog has been reduced by one-third with the definite possibility it soon may be eliminated.

At the start of the program, there were 8,000 cases pending. There are now 5,559. The time lapse between when a case is filed and when it is finally settled has been reduced from 3½ years to two.

Complete History
Judge Ellenbogen said the computer enables the court to know in a matter of minutes the complete history of any case and in a matter of hours the complete breakdown on the number and types of cases pending or the number of cases a single lawyer or law firm is handling.

In the past, the judge said, such statistical information would have been impossible to obtain.

Charles Starrett Jr., administrative assistant to Judge Ellenbogen, said the Allegheny County system is unique in that it follows a case from start to finish. Computers are in use in other cities, he said, mainly to record phases of cases or isolated statistics such as fees.

Statistical Information
Possession of complete statistical information enable the court to know which law firms or lawyers are overburdened by cases. The court can recommend that additional attorneys be hired and can be more efficient in directing the disposition of the more than 200 cases that are filed monthly.

The computer keeps track of deferred cases which, in the past, tended to pile up because they were filed and forgotten or overlooked.

Attorneys fill out source cards listing the names of the plaintiff and defendant and attorneys for both sides, types of cases and other data. Whenever action is taken, even a continuance, the information is added.

An automatic sorter, which can process up to 1,000 record cards a minute, is the workhorse of the system.

Despite the computer, there has been little effect on employment, according to Starrett. Employees who used to have to dig through the files to compile these lists, now have been trained to run the computer.

Judge Ellenbogen is the son of a Vienna merchant who came to this country in 1921 after studying law and political science in his native Austria. He is a youthful looking 64, short, slim and fine featured. He speaks with a trace of an Austrian accent.

Judge Ellenbogen graduated from Duquesne University Law School and went into private practice in Pittsburgh. He served three terms in Congress from 1932 until his election in 1938 to his first 10-year term on the Common Pleas bench.

Of the use of a computer in court work, the judge said: "I believe we are on the threshold of a great and basic reform in court administration."

Italian Farmers Win Battle for Red Lake's Water

TRENTO, Italy (AP) — Farmers appeared Tuesday to have won their battle for the waters of Italy's only red lake despite the stubborn defense of nature lovers and tourist officials.

The farmers, who twice broke the dike at Lake Tovel to get water for parched fields, were told the government had ordered a spillgate opened to allow a flow from the little lake.

Opponents say the flow may carry away the lake's red hue.

Lake Tovel turns ruby red every summer. Scientists say it is because of the ripening of a type of red algae.

Soviets Protest Boycott of Cuba

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union has protested to the U.N. Security Council that the boycott resolution voted against Cuba by a majority of the Organization of American States violates the U.N. charter "and is therefore invalid."

The Soviet protest was filed Sunday with the United Nations but was not circulated as a Security Council document until this morning.

The document, signed by Platon D. Morozov, acting chief of the Soviet delegation, did not ask for a Security Council meeting. There had been talk that Morozov wanted the council to meet and debate the OAS action.

Judge Ellenbogen graduated from Duquesne University Law School and went into private practice in Pittsburgh. He served three terms in Congress from 1932 until his election in 1938 to his first 10-year term on the Common Pleas bench. Of the use of a computer in court work, the judge said: "I believe we are on the threshold of a great and basic reform in court administration."

The Law and You

Marriage Contract in State Has Exacting Requirements

You may have heard it said either by revoking it and making that you can't cut off a son or a new one or by executing a daughter in your will without supplement or codicil to the will, anything, but must leave them. You cannot will property at least one dollar. Not true! which you own as a joint tenant. You can disinherit any child if You cannot change beneficiaries in a life insurance policy you so desire.

Good will drafting practice, however, is to specifically state something like "To my son John, I leave nothing," or "To my daughter Mary, I leave nothing," she having received her share of my estate during my life-time or time.

A husband cannot disinherit his wife completely. The wife has the option of accepting what is willed to her, or taking one third of the estate. In addition, a she has homestead rights in the home until she dies or remarries.

Other Misconceptions
To dispell other misconceptions about wills, the following points are made:
You can change your will.

You can save money with a will by keeping the executor's fee in the family and avoiding costly bond.

You cannot change a will simply by scratching over words or inserting new sentences.

You can commit libel in a will. When a will is offered for probate it becomes public, and defamatory statements there in may subject your estate to a lawsuit for damages.

Any adult, 21 years and over, every married woman 18 years or upward, and any other minor who is a member of the armed forces, being of sound mind, can make a will.

Schools Asked To Lower Their Race Barriers

Bishop's Pastoral Letter Goes to Mississippi Parishes

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi's Roman Catholics have been asked to lower racial barriers in their parochial schools this fall.

Bishop Richard O. Gerow, in a pastoral letter read to all parishioners Sunday, called for integration of first grades.

Implementation of the pastoral letter will be voluntary. "It is to be the policy of the Catholic schools in the diocese to admit qualified Catholic children to the first grade without respect to race," Bishop Gerow's letter said.

"I rely on your devotion," his letter continued, "and ask for your prayers that whatever adjustments ensue, they may respond to the greatest honor and glory of God and the strengthening of the bond of charity which unites us all in Christ."

Implementation of his decision, the bishop said, "will be handled by each pastor in consultation with me" and begin in September.

A Catholic source said the di-cese did not know how many students will be integrating classrooms.

Bishop Gerow

The move follows a recent federal court action ordering public schools in Jackson, Biloxi and Leake County to integrate this fall — Mississippi's first public school desegregation below the college level.

Public school integration will also start with the first grade.

Bishop Gerow's order encompasses 51 white and Negro elementary parochial schools. They have an enrollment of 13,408 pupils.

There are an estimated 71,132 Catholics among the 2,178,141 Mississippians.

The pastoral letter did not explain whether the public school grade-a-year plan would be followed in parochial schools.

In calling for the move, Bishop Gerow asked Mississippi Catholics "to give witness to a true Christian spirit by their acceptance of, and cooperation in, the implementation of this policy."

The encyclical was divided into four parts: A. prologue on the paths open to the church, a section on church awareness of itself, another on the renewal under way in the Church, and the last on the dialogue between the Church and the world.

In the prologue the Pope offered to help in international disputes, without specifically saying what form such aid might take.

Duty of Church

In the chapter on awareness, Pope Paul said "it is a duty to-day for the Church to deepen the awareness that she must have of herself, of the treasure of truth of which she is heir and custodian and of her mission in the world."

He said the Church must "reflect on herself" because of the scientific, technical, social, philosophical and currents in the world.

"Men committed to the Church are greatly influenced by the climate of the world; so much so that a danger bordering almost on vertiginous confusion and bewilderment can shake the Church's very foundations and lead men to embrace most bizarre ways of thinking."

The chapter on reform noted that it was up to the Ecumenical Council to propose changes in canon law, to render the Church "spotless and youthful."

Pope Paul said the term reform should not be used only "in the sense of change, but of a stronger determination to preserve the characteristic features which Christ has impressed on the Church."

But he added: "Let us not deceive ourselves into thinking that the edifice of the Church should be reduced to its early minimal proportions as if they alone were true and good."

It was in the third chapter, on dialogue, that the Pope discussed communism, atheism, Christian unity and the possibility of a joint defense of common ideals with non-Christians.

Sen. Goldwater to Seek Advice If He Wins Presidency

Foreign Policy Would be Similar to Eisenhower's

BY WALTER MEARS
HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater said today that if he wins the election he will talk over with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and "other experienced leaders" seasoned in world affairs "his appointments to key national security posts in the Cabinet."

Goldwater said his foreign policy would be patterned upon Eisenhower's.

"If all this amounts to an impulsive and trigger-happy approach to foreign policy, then I fear the English language has lost its meaning," he said in an address prepared for a gathering of Republican party leaders.

Goldwater is speaking at a closed-door summit conference of the leaders. A text of his remarks was issued after the senator flew into Hershey from Washington. Goldwater said the No. 1 campaign problem the Republicans face is "the totally wrong view our opponents will try to din into the mind of every American voter — namely that the election of a Republican president in November will somehow lead to war."

"This is the supreme political lie, and we've got to label it for what it is," Goldwater said.

The Arizona senator said a Goldwater administration "will mean an immediate return to the proven policy of peace through strength which was a hallmark of the Eisenhower years."

Picks Own Cabinet

"Every president, if he's worth his salt, will pick his own Cabinet. He must pick his own associates for the top echelon of government. However, I can assure you that I would not appoint anyone to the offices of secretary of state, or secretary of defense or other critical national security posts until I have first discussed my plans for those appointments with Gen. Eisenhower, Dick Nixon and other experienced leaders seasoned in world affairs."

Goldwater offered pledges to the 38 Republicans, Eisenhower and Nixon among them, he summoned here to talk about party unity.

He had a preview unity talk Tuesday with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

He said they met for about 90 minutes.

Districting Bill May be Tied to Foreign Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate battle lines formed today over efforts to tie a legislative reapportionment rider to the coattails of the foreign aid bill.

Administration leaders saw little prospect of heading off a long floor fight on the rider sponsored by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen.

Unless a compromise can be reached, final action on the bill may not come until late next week, killing any prospect for the adjournment of Congress in advance of the Democratic national convention which opens in Atlantic City a week from Monday.

The foreign aid bill suffered two setbacks Tuesday.

First, the Senate trimmed $216.7 million from the $3.516-billion bill. The House then approved the measure by the House.

Shortly afterward, the program suffered what Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., its floor manager, described as a much more crippling blow. The Senate amended the bill with an amendment that would raise interest rates on all development loans abroad, including those under the Alliance for Progress program in Latin America.

Turks Continue Air Missions Over Cyprus

Greeks on Island In Demonstration At U. S. Embassy

BY ALEX EFTY
NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Turkish jet planes cruised low over reconnaissance missions over northwest Cyprus today only a few hours after the U.N. Security Council appealed to all nations to end flights over Cyprus.

Placard-carrying Greek Cypriots demonstrated outside the U.S. Embassy in Nicosia, shouting for the 400 or so Americans in Cyprus to get out.

"Murderers, get out!" they yelled, expressing a conviction that both the United States and Britain supported the Turkish air raids last weekend. "Get out, you sons of donkeys!"

Banners demanded: "Yank-ees go home. Britons go home."

Photographic Missions
A government spokesman in Ankara said the Turkish jets had taken off before receipt of the council's request to all nations to stop flights over Cyprus. He said they were fighters ordered to photograph but not to strafe or bomb Greek Cypriot positions or troop movements.

Greece charged that the Turks also flew over the Greek islands of Crete and Rhodes, both Tuesday and today, and demanded that they quit it.

Premier George Papandreou's Athens government warned Turkey that any further violations of Greek airspace "would compel Greece to act accordingly."

Military Buildup
Though bidding for cooperation of Greece in negotiations to settle the Cyprus crisis, Turkey is gearing up for further military action if the Greek Cypriots press on, as they threaten, in an offensive against Turkish Cypriot holdings in the Kokkina coastal area that was halted Monday by a U.N. sponsored cease-fire.

A dispatch from Iskenderun, a Turkish port 100 miles northeast of Cyprus, said more than 30,000 troops stood ready at barracks there for embarkation and armored units, including tanks and artillery, were already aboard naval vessels.

Alarm Sounded
Police in Morphou, 25 miles west of Nicosia, sounded the air raid alarm.

A loud explosion was heard Tuesday.

Conferees Get Bill For 30 Per Cent Cut In U. S. Meat Imports

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill that would reduce meat imports has been sent to a Senate-House Conference Committee and backers of the measure fear it will stay right there and die quietly.

"I'm very suspicious that nothing will happen," said Rep. Ancher Nielsen, R-Minn.

The measure which would cut meat imports by 30 per cent had the backing of the livestock industry and was approved by the Senate on a 72-15 vote.

The State and Agriculture Departments opposed it.

U. S. Pilot Shot to Death At Controls

BY MALCOM W. BROWNE
XA BA HAO, Viet Nam (AP) — One of the largest helicopter assaults of the South Viet Nam war was hurled today against a reported concentration of some 3,000 Communist Viet Cong in a jungle area.

Ninety-six Vietnamese and U.S. Army helicopters carried nearly 1,000 Vietnamese troops into the attack.

Minutes after the assault began, a young U.S. Army first lieutenant slumped dead at his controls.

A .50-caliber armor-piercing machinegun bullet had passed through the windshield as the helicopter was making a strafing pass and pierced his heart.

Another Copter Hit
"He was the seventh pilot in our class of 50 to be killed in Viet Nam," Capt. Robert Estes of Auson, Maine, said.

Another armed helicopter, flown by Maj. Ralph Irvin of Redding, Calif., also was shot up badly but limped back to Saigon. Redding and his crew escaped injury.

Every available helicopter in the southern half of South Viet Nam was rounded up for the operation.

But the morning started poorly. The helicopters and the Vietnamese Air Force fighters that were to have blasted rockets into the assault zone had to turn away when heavy ground fog rolled in.

It was nearly 9:30 a.m. before the operation got under way again.

"It's nice for the Viet Cong this way," a crewman said. "Our spotter planes have given them fair warning. They've seen the sky black with choppers, and now they have a couple of hours to pack up at leisure."

A pilot added: "We know that they've got at least one .50-caliber machinegun with a good mount. That's bad news."

Frantic radio messages crackled over the air.

New Jersey Hit By New Rioting

Gasoline Bombs, Rocks, Bottles Thrown in 2 Cities

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP) — Negroes in Paterson and both Negro and white youths in Elizabeth went on violent sprees Tuesday night in which gasoline bombs, rocks and empty bottles were hurled, store windows smashed and one store was looted.

The outbreaks began first in Paterson and, as order was restored there, flared up in Elizabeth. Both are major industrial cities in northeastern New Jersey.

Elizabeth police said three cars carrying white youths careened through the streets of a predominantly Negro neighborhood, tossing bottles. Negroes smashed a tavern window, police said. A Negro man was charged with looting.

Expects More Trouble

Paterson Mayor Frank X. Graves said today, "We have every reason to believe there will be further trouble. We are prepared for further trouble tonight."

Police appeared to be in control in both cities.

Twelve separate incidents were reported in Paterson. At least three store windows were smashed.

Mayor Graves said a dozen Negro youths boarded a bus and smashed its windows.

Two fires were started in Elizabeth firms with gasoline bombs and a third was started under the front porch of a white resident's home facing an integrated public housing project. One store was looted.

No serious injuries were reported in either city and only one person in each was arrested.

Paterson is about 15 miles west of New York City and Elizabeth is 20 miles south of Paterson.

At Least 26 Perish In Landslides and Floods in South Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Floods and landslides took at least 26 lives after new torrential rains Tuesday night. An American soldier was missing.

The victims included six South Korean soldiers who were swept away by a swollen river near Hongchon, 45 miles east of Seoul.

A U.S. Army spokesman said the missing American was a passenger in a car sent to help a car stuck in a swollen stream in the 1st Cavalry Division's area north of the capital. The soldier disappeared as he and his companion tried to swim to shore when their own car became stuck.

Cafe Owner Continues to Defy Court

ATLANTA (AP) — Segregationist Lester Maddox planned today to continue his defiance of federal court orders requiring him to admit Negroes to his restaurant under the Civil Rights Act.

"I'll open up today for business as usual, but will remain segregated," said Maddox, who thwarted three attempts by Negroes to enter his Pickrick Restaurant Tuesday.

Maddox enlisted the aid of his Negro employees and a jeering crowd of whites waving ax handles to block the Negroes from the Pickrick. He had brandished a pistol to keep Negroes out previously, and had it with him today but kept it holstered.

Crowds at the scene swelled to nearly 500 Tuesday as Maddox, who vows he will never integrate, clashed with police officers who sealed off traffic for the block on a street in front of the Pickrick.

In retaliation, Maddox used cars owned by himself and his daughter to block two side streets on which traffic was being rerouted.

Maddox removed his cars after Police Supt. I.G. Cowan assured him that if the streets were cleared his customers would be allowed access to the restaurant in their cars.

House Passes Vet Pension Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a bill that would increase pension benefits for war veterans or their widows.

Approval came Tuesday on a 388-0 roll call vote. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The Veterans Administration estimates the measure would add $44 million to pensions in this fiscal year that ends next June 30 and mount in cost until it added $111 million to pensions in the 1969 fiscal year.

At the most, the increase could come to $35 a month. This would apply to a veteran with three dependents who has an income of less than $1,200 a year. His new maximum would be $110 a month.

Lucey Charges Barry Would Be Unsafe Chief

Democratic Hopeful Addresses Luncheon In New London

NEW LONDON — The United States would not be safe with Barry Goldwater as president, Democrat Patrick J. Lucey, candidate for lieutenant governor, vowed Tuesday.

Lucey, on a three-week, statewide speaking tour, was featured speaker at a noon luncheon sponsored by the Waupaca County Democratic Party.

He said the U. S. has made it traditional that the civilian dominates the military, but Goldwater advocates turning nuclear weapons control over to military leaders.

Lucey said if Wisconsin could be carried by the Democrats in the presidential election it would assure the re-election of Lyndon Johnson.

Industrial Growth

In state affairs, he said Wisconsin is experiencing the greatest period of industrial growth in its history under Gov. John Reynolds.

The Democrats consistently opposed the sales tax and did everything possible to have it repealed, he said. The Republicans "blackmailed" the governor into signing the tax bill, he charged.

The best way to stimulate the economy of Wisconsin's smaller communities is to assure that local businesses are competitive with larger ones, he declared. As lieutenant governor, he said he would work with the Department of Resource Development to make local leaders aware of state and federal programs which can help them revitalize their communities.

Murphy Announces

Gerald Murphy, New London, Waupaca County Democratic chairman, announced his candidacy for assemblyman from the county. He said there was a big job ahead of him, but he expected to be more successful than in the last campaign.

Howard Hazen, administrative assistant to the governor, said the campaign for the state's highest office had not started in full swing yet, but after the convention he expected a hard fight.

Mendenhall persuaded them it was too expensive to haul provisions all the way from Sault because, he said, he had ample supplies at La Pointe Mich., which was nearer to Isle Royale.

Guard the Copper

Charlie and Angelique Mott were left on what is now Mott Island one day in the summer of 1845. They had found a large piece of copper during a previous visit and had informed a mining company executive of its presence.

Mott was hired by the company to guard the copper mass until the arrival of the equipment to haul it away. His wage $25 per month for three months. His wife, Angelique, was to get $5 for accompanying her husband and for cooking for both from Milwaukee; Steven Hutchcock, Oshkosh; and I.

With this promise, Charlie and Angelique were boated the 50 miles from Copper Harbor to the little island. They were dropped off with their pitiful supply of food, a fish net and a little canoe. They were to be picked up three months later, in October. Then the boat departed.

"An Awful Thing"

They built a little shack, caught a few fish in their net. But soon the net became torn and useless, and, in a storm, the canoe was lost. The promised supply boat never came. Angelique was to say this:

Outagamie Board Again Rejects Bill to Sell Farm

Supervisors Disregard Advice Of Hospital Superintendent, Put Measure Over to January Session

BY DICK LYNEIS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Disregarding the advice of John A. Engle, superintendent of the County Hospital and Golden Age Home, the Outagamie County Board Tuesday rejected a plan to sell the county farm.

The resolution to sell the farm, operated as a part of the hospital, was approved by the hospital board of trustees and was submitted by the health, education and institutions committee.

The county board put off action on selling the farm Tuesday for the third time. This time the resolution was tabled until the January meeting by a 32 to 18 vote.

Therapeutic Value Less

Engle told the board the therapeutic value "has lessened considerably in recent years. Of the 240 hospital patients," he said, "only 11 work on the farm. At one time we used to have 75 or 100 people working on the farm."

Engle urged the supervisors to remember "we are no longer operating an asylum, we are operating a hospital. When patients are working on the farm," he said, "all we are doing is occupying their time. What we want to do is to cure patients and to make them well enough to lead normal lives."

"Operating a farm just doesn't fit into the pattern of hospital life," Engle said.

Lost Money

Engle said the county could put the $220,000 value of the hospital "to better use. The farm earned an $11,000 profit last year," he said, "but it lost $5,000 the year before and lost money several years before that. For that amount of money, you're getting a very poor return on your investment."

"Operating a farm is no business for a hospital," Engle said, "but if you want to make money instead of curing patients, maybe we could start a shoe factory or paper mill and make you a bigger profit."

"Are we just trying to find something for the patients to do with their time?" Engle asked, "and run up a $100,000 bill during their lifetimes, or are we

Okay New Post Of Traffic Captain In Calumet County

Board Votes Unanimously on Resolution Tabled in January

CHILTON — The Calumet County Board voted unanimously Tuesday to authorize the sheriff's committee to appoint a traffic patrol captain.

The resolution, originally introduced at the January session and tabled for further study, was taken from the table Tuesday and passed.

Included in the resolution are recommendations from the sheriff's committee listing the duties of a traffic captain.

Letter to Board

The action was partially prompted by a letter, addressed to the board and signed by the traffic policemen, which requested a captain be appointed. It was signed by four of the policemen, Victor Juno, Brillion; Rodney Ott, Forest Junction; Frederick Martens, Kiel; and Donald Kossmann, Chilton.

A fifth patrolman, Irvan Vice, Appleton, explained in a letter his reason for not signing the request. Since he was a candidate for sheriff, he thought it best not to sign, he said.

At present, the traffic patrol is under the jurisdiction of Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky. It was the board's feeling action should be taken before the campaign for the office started.

Purpose of Action

The move has been contemplated for some time.

The duties of the captain would involve setting up schedules for traffic officers. All action of the captain would be subject to approval of the sheriff.

Waupaca Will Jail Women At Shawano

County Board Approves Contract During Meeting

WAUPACA — Women prisoners from Waupaca County will be housed at the Shawano County jail in the future.

A resolution approving a contract between the two counties was passed at Tuesday's county board meeting.

Previously women prisoners were held in detention at either the Outagamie County jail, Appleton or the Portage County jail, Stevens Point.

Due to overcrowded conditions at both of these jails, it became necessary to find other facilities.

Waupaca County did not have a written contract with either Outagamie or Portage county to house women prisoners.

While women prisoners are being held at the Shawano jail, Waupaca County has agreed to pay 66 2/3 cents per meal, $1 per day for housing, and all medical expenses and matron fees.

The matron fees will be prorated if women from other counties are being held at the same time.

Matron fees will be less costly in Shawano County, the board was told, because the sheriff's wife acts as matron and it is not necessary to hire a woman to be at the jail 24 hours.

Waupaca County does not have jail facilities to house either women or juvenile prisoners. All prisoners other than adult men must be transported to a jail in a neighboring county.

When a new jail is constructed in Waupaca County, facilities for all types of prisoners will be included.

New London Education Board Hikes Fee for Athletic Games

Adults Will Have to Pay $1; Health Officer Will Be Salaried

NEW LONDON — Adults will have to pay a $1 admission fee to New London school sporting events as a result of board of education action Monday.

The fee was raised so athletic team health officer Bob Gabriel could be paid a token reimbursement of $75. The action was taken on the commendation of football coach Larry Graves, who said Gabriel had been doing the work without pay for the last few years.

Mark Demming's request that he be allowed to graduate early so he may enroll in the University of Lima, Peru, was granted on the basis of his academic record and because he had enough credits to warrant the action.

Language Teacher Aide

Supt. H. James Ramsdell was authorized to arrange for a foreign language teacher aide for six weeks at a cost of $185. Ramsdell said he could arrange an aide — a college student or teacher from a foreign country — for the Spanish department.

Board members tabled action on the appointment of a representative to the Co-operative Educational Service Agency, a state group which will replace the office of county superintendent of schools July 1, 1965.

Transportation routes were laid out by Les Werner and Don Hohman. The board agreed to issue contracts at the same rate as last year with extra pay for hauling kindergarten children and shuttle routes. One shuttle route will be between here and the Sugar Bush School for sixth grade children.

New Policy

Administrators were given permission to obtain another car at a cost between $500 and $700. Board members adopted a new policy which states any complaints must come to the board through the superintendent and not directly to individual board members.

Bus boarding supervisors at McKinley and Lincoln schools will be paid $1 a day for the extra work, board members voted. The board also authorized preparation of a brochure for the Sugar Bush School open house Aug. 30.

The board approved the use of Room 102 in the high school as a polling center for the fall election. The request had been made by Mayor Wilmer Schlafer.

Contracts

Board members also granted Removal of the contract for re-moval of garbage from McKinley, Lincoln and Washington schools and Washington High School.

Stevens Point Man Is Fined $75 and Costs For Taking Typewriter

WAUPACA — Taking a typewriter from a friend's car in an attempt to assure a ride home, cost a 22-year old Stevens Point man $75 and costs when he appeared in Municipal Justice Court, Monday on a theft charge. James L. Zimbauer, 214 Prairie St., Stevens Point, was arrested on the theft charge when a policeman saw him take the typewriter from one car and put it in another car near the Casino, Sunday night. When appearing before Municipal Justice George Whalen, Zimbauer said he had been with Clark Brockman, owner of the car that he took the typewriter from, earlier and had taken the typewriter so that Brockman would not leave without him. The typewriter was owned by Ray Jenner, Brockman's employer.

Shawano clinched the crown in the Western Division of the Badger Amateur Baseball Association as it won its 11th straight game and defeated Marion, 9-5, last Sunday. In other "Western" play, Tigerton upset Gresham, 6-3; Bowler edged Leopold, 8-7, in 11 innings; Caroline walloped Tilleda, 20-6, and Caroline was awarded a protested earlier game with Gresham because Gresham had used an ineligible player. The Central Division also played its final round of games, with the exception of a makeup contest between Scandinavia and Big Falls next Sunday. Assured of Tie Big Falls assured itself of a tie for first place in the division by walloping Iola, 13-1, while Symco was outslugging Scandinavia, 11-9. The Brimwood Cardinals just kept rolling along in the Northern Division, as they downed Elderon, 9-4. Wittenberg edged Eland, 7-6, in 10 innings; the Brimwood Tigers tipped Almon, 4-2; and Hatley clobbered Eau Claire Delis, 9-1. Ron Raasch picked up the win and the title for Shawano. Ken Frailing was the loser. Marv Wiesnicht hit two home runs for the winners while Ken Seering had a double and a round-trip.

Builds Up Lead Tigerton built up a 6-0 lead through the first six innings and man took the loss.

The Clintonville High School Class of 1954 held a 10-year reunion at the Veterans Memorial Building. Waupaca County To Build Horse Barn

Board Approves $8,500 Structure For Fairgrounds at Weyauwega

WAUPACA—An appropriation of funds for a new horse barn at the Waupaca County fairgrounds in Weyauwega received county board approval Tuesday. The new barn will replace an old structure which has been deemed unfit for use by members of the Fair Association. The new barn, which will be of steel construction, is expected to cost $8,500. Of this amount the county will contribute $6,500 and the fair association $2,000 if the association has a good year at the coming fair. Pat Riley, association director, appeared before the board and explained the new barn will be 36 by 100 feet and contain 20 stalls which will be 10 by 10 feet in size. Horse racing is making a comeback in the state and at this year's fair more entries

Final plans will be completed at a bratwurst dinner meeting at the Wolf River Crossing Park at 7 p.m. Thursday with Alvin Lewin, Olin Mead and Clarence Brasch in charge of preparations. According to Jack Abraham, chamber of commerce, promotional chairman, the festival will feature produce displays and sales by rural people. Free cheese will be supplied and at 1:30 p.m. free ice cream will be given away. A white elephant sale will begin at 2 p.m. Evening entertainment will feature 4-H clubs. A 9 p.m. milking contest between bank officials of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Weyauwega and Appleton State Bank, Fremont Branch will be followed by a street dance.

Waupaca Auto Crashes Result in Death of Deer, $275 Damages

WAUPACA — Two recent one-car mishaps in Waupaca County resulted in total damages of more than $275 and in the death of a deer. The first crash occurred at 2 a.m. Sunday when a truck driven by Dean P. Riley, 25, route 1, Amherst, failed to make a turn at County Trunk Q and a town road two miles north of Sheridan. The truck was traveling west. Damages were estimated at $150. A deer was killed at 5:30 a.m. Monday on State 54, four miles east of here, when a car driven by Joseph F. Arendt, 49, route 2, Nekoma, hit it. Arendt said he was traveling east when the deer came out of the right ditch and he could not stop in time to avoid hitting the animal. Damages totaled an estimated $125.

Soft Approach to Juvenile Problem Again Under Fire

Sociologist Calls 'Woodshed Program' a Stupid Notion

BY JOHN K. IGLEHART

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Would juvenile delinquents be less aggressive if they knew their offenses would bring them into open court, with attendant publicity?

Or is the whole problem one that should be dealt with a little farther back, and perhaps a little below the waist?

"I don't believe in a soft approach to the juvenile problem," said Police Chief Harold Brier, head of Milwaukee's 1,825-man force which saw a 19 per cent increase in juvenile crime last year.

Woodshed Program

"This follows my woodshed program of more parental control. In some cases publicity in juvenile cases would not hurt and it might help, especially in violent crimes."

Brier's opinion contrasted sharply with that of Dr. Irwin C. Rinder, University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee sociologist who called the woodshed approach to combating delinquency a "stupid notion."

"The idea of a parent taking a child behind the woodshed is a stupid notion. It would only further disavow the child."

"From my position," Rinder continued, "it is not a good procedure to use names of juveniles. I can't see any positive good of what can come of it. This severe public labeling would only hurt the child."

Region Administrator

Ralph Jefferson, Milwaukee region administrator of the state, F. Ryan Duffy Jr., and Christ T. Seraphim, believe juveniles named should be used in most criminal cases.

"The wanton use of juvenile names would do more harm than good," he said. "I lean toward the Wisconsin statutes toward the Wisconsin code, the Wisconsin's juvenile code, the inction between the young criminal and the young delinquent.

"I certainly don't believe that every time a youngster filches an apple or breaks a window with a baseball his name should appear in the paper," Seraphim said. "But I'm talking about the serious crimes—burglary, arson, manslaughter and murder."

"I don't buy the idea that if you give the young hoodlum love and understanding he will stay out of trouble."

Busy Court

"My court is the busiest one in Wisconsin," Seraphim noted, "and I have seen the effects of certain groups who tell the young criminal, 'I'll give you another chance Johnny' and then he commits a second crime while awaiting trial on the first charge."

Among the defendants in Judge Duffy's court are 16 to 18-year-old traffic violators and about them he said:

"I have had their cases tried in open court. There is no secrecy. Their cases are open to public scrutiny. Juvenile crime is not something to hide. It should be brought out into the open. The embarrassment it provides is a real deterrent to any future conduct of the youth."

Juvenile Publicity

On the question of publicity the superintendent of Milwaukee's public schools, Harold S. Vincent said:

"Ordinarily it would seem advisable not to use the names of juvenile offenders. In serious cases, however, I believe revealing the name might have a beneficial effect."

Vincent's comment came as the Milwaukee School system contemplated methods of dealing with a juvenile problem of its own—a series of attacks on teachers by pupils or former pupils during the last term. The board has approved hiring four security guards this fall to keep the peace in classrooms.

Two Judges

Two Milwaukee County judges, F. Ryan Duffy Jr., and Christ T. Seraphim, believe juveniles named should be used in most criminal cases.

"There is no question in my mind that in serious crimes the name should be used," Seraphim said. "But there is a dis-

Schedule for 2 Gemini Flights Remains Same, but 'Very Tight'

BY HAROLD R. WILLIAMS

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Top-level meeting set new schedule after a hard look at the craft hasn't been delivered to unforeseen problems would keep two Gemini flights from being made this year.

Charles W. Mathews, Gemini program director, indicated all the bugs have been ironed out of the spacecraft and they will be ready for shipping to Cape Kennedy, Fla., before the end of August.

"I will be completely honest," he said, "the situation is very tight but we still plan the unmanned flight before October and the manned mission in December."

Crew Safety

"I can say we are not going to accelerate activity so the crew's safety is endangered."

"We are not going to stick our heads in the sand and rush blindly along just to meet a schedule, and by the same token, we are not going to doggedly maintain we can meet the schedule when we know we can't."

Gemini is about one year behind the schedule originally announced. "The capsule miles down the Atlantic range will come from the McDonnell is successful in 1962. In May 1963 a plant in St. Louis flight-ready." He said one reason the space-space officials said today only capsules for the unmanned and manned flights were being checked out together.

The present schedule calls for the first flight to be unmanned — it originally was set to be the first manned flight — and to be made in the third quarter of 1964, which includes July, August and September.

Only Dates

These are the only dates officially released by the manned spacecraft center, and these are: the times Mathews and Dr. Robert Gilruth, manned spacecraft center director, reiterated.

"We have not changed the schedule from the one originally announced," said Dr. Gilruth, the Titan II launch vehicle.

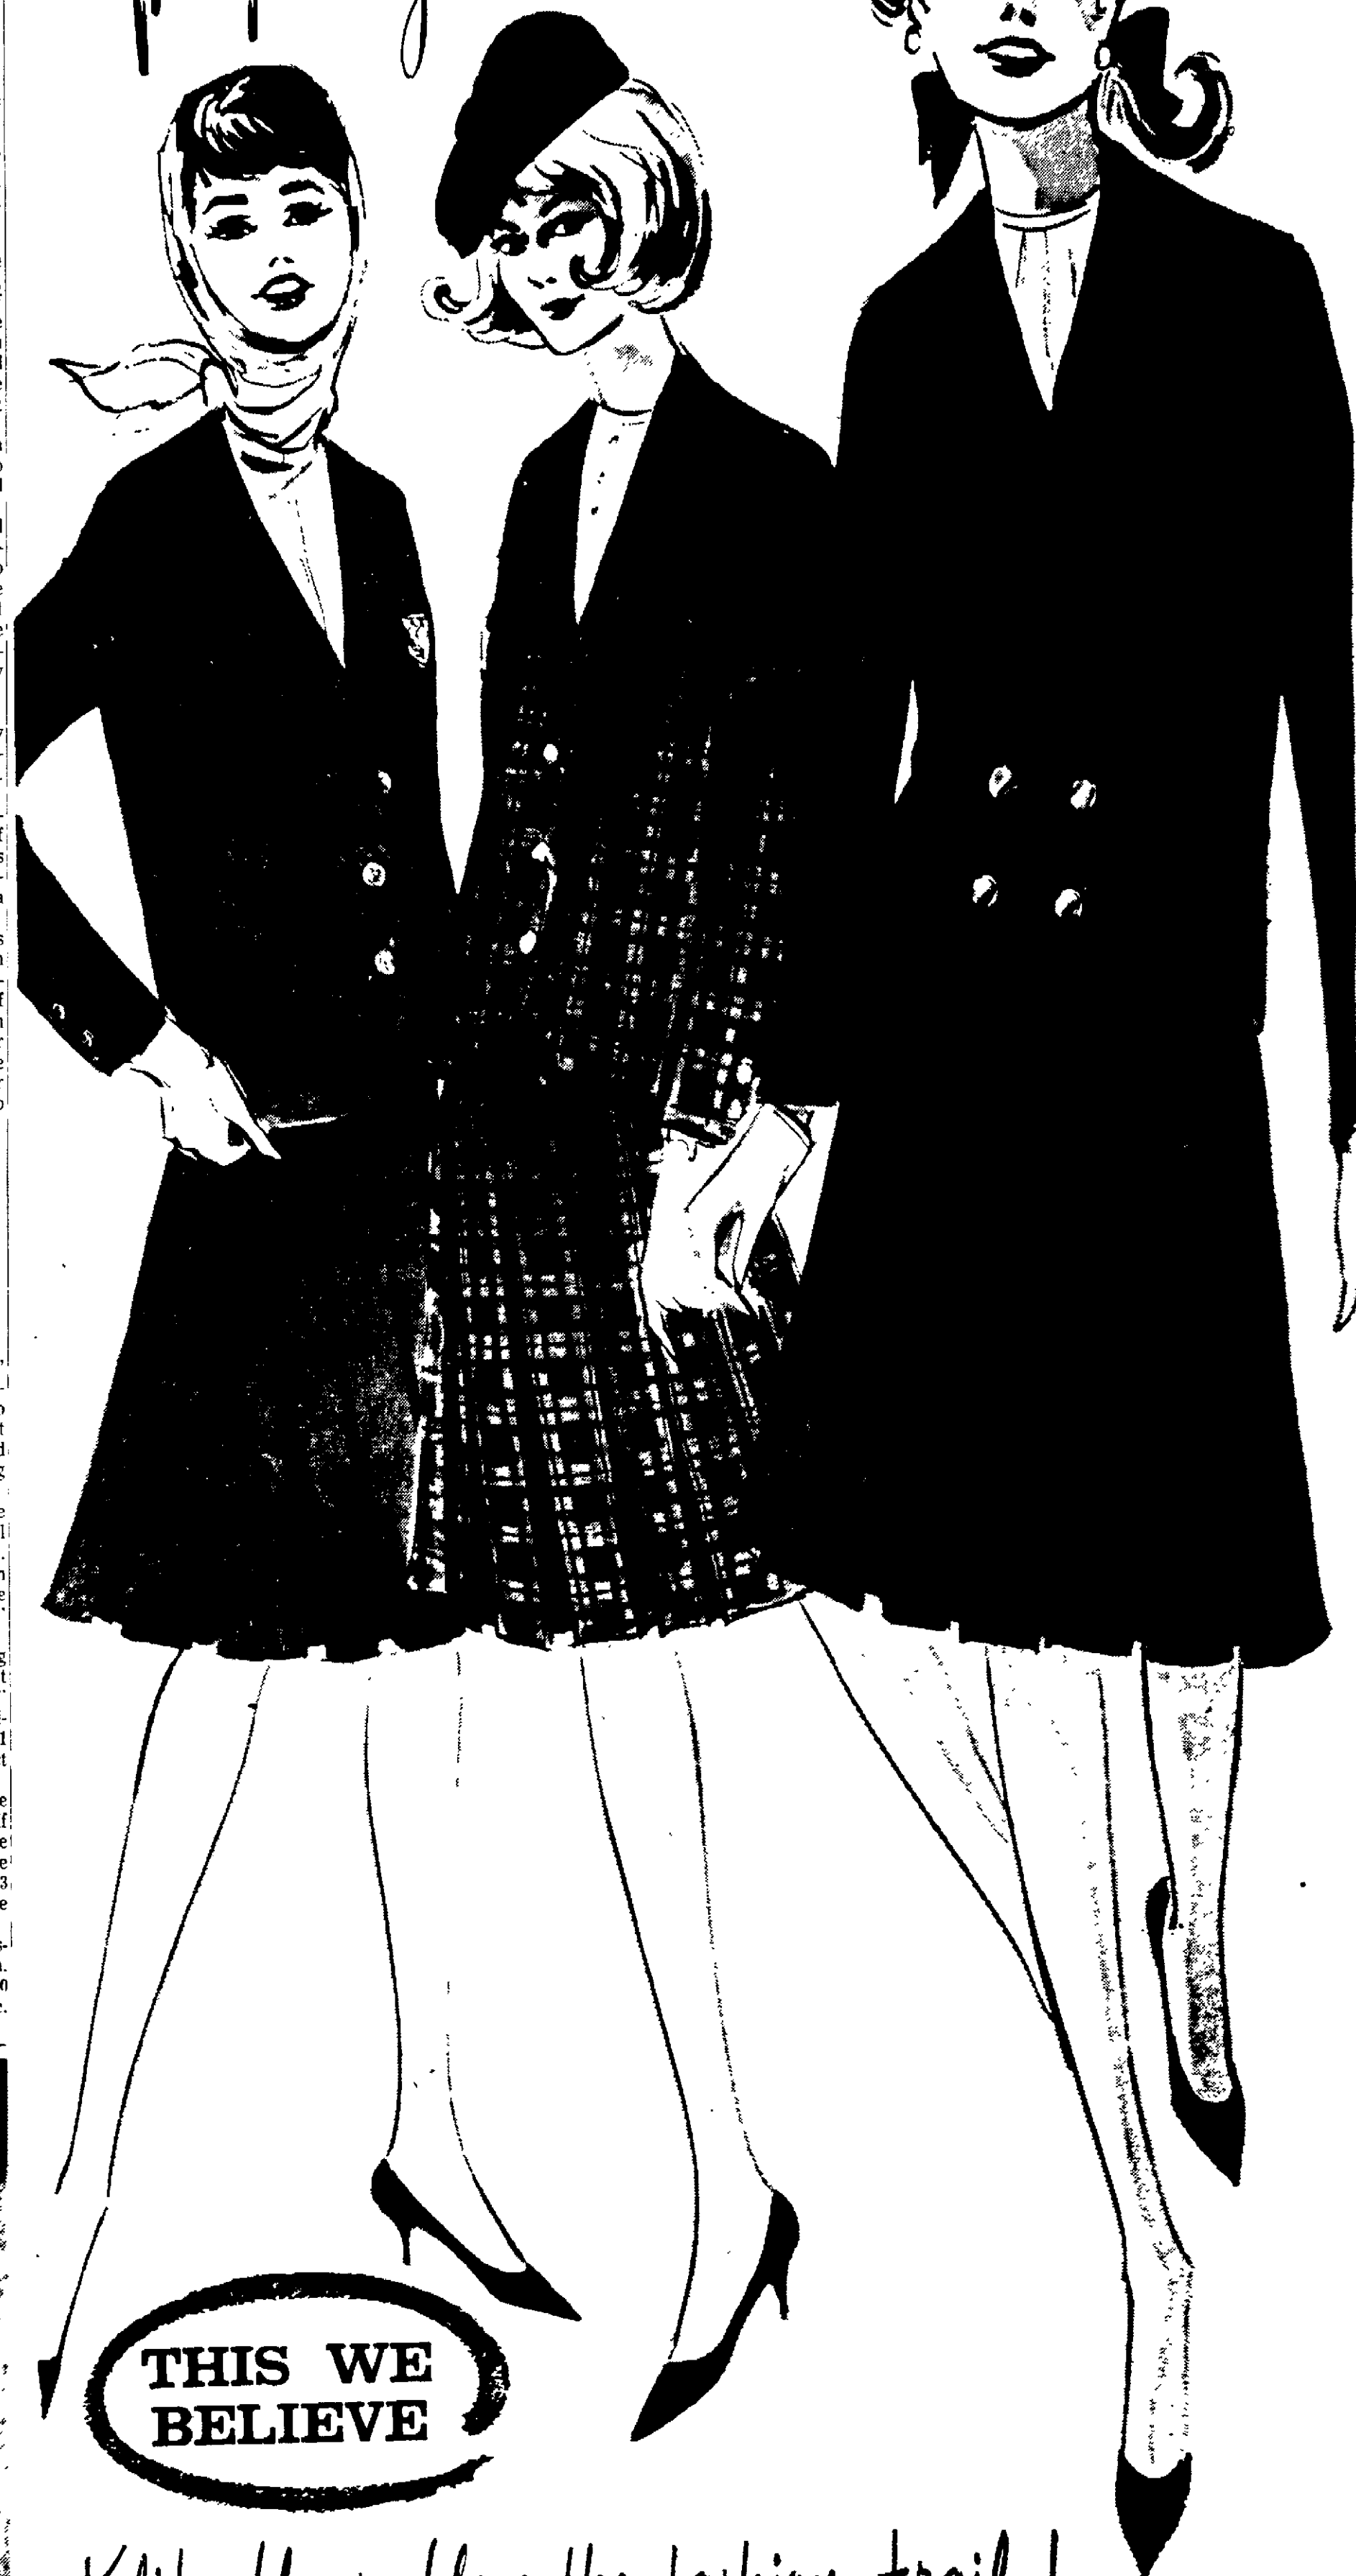

"We are sticking with that timetable," Mathews said. "If the unmanned flight isn't made until October we still feel we have sufficient time to fire GT3 launching, which was released (manned mission) before the year is out."

He emphasized that this is assuming the unmanned mission, weeks checkout at the cape which is a ballistic flight 7,500 miles down the Atlantic range.

"We will not need the eight weeks checkout at the cape which is a ballistic flight 7,500 miles down the Atlantic range."

"The capsule miles down the Atlantic range will come from the McDonnell is successful

Columbus Spent $7,000 Discovering America

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: It cost Columbus $7,000 to discover America. The big question now is — was it a good investment? A century ago anybody over 50 was considered old. But most achievements were accomplished by people over 60 years can get a $300,000 policy, round trip. A Harvard study of 200 people of age over 65 found that only 21 per cent of the men and 20 per cent of the women thought of themselves as elderly. It has been estimated that 64 first transatlantic flight aboard Pan American's pioneering Dixie Clipper. Today for $12 you can get a $300,000 policy, round trip. A quarter of a century ago it the average plant does, in production cost passengers $200 for $10,000 portion to your weight, you'd insurance — one way — for the have to drink 10 quarts a day. To get rich all you need is to discover a way to profitably mine the mineral wealth in the sea. The oceans of the world are quite a delicacy in the land contain some six million tons of gold. Joke of the week: Catholic Digest magazine tells of the proud father who congratulated his son on his 13th birthday and asked him how it felt to be a teen-ager. "It's all right, I guess," the boy replied, "except for the reputation." It isn't true that U.S. presidents are immune from arrest. Theoretically, a radical is someone who likes to go to the root of any situation. President Franklin Pierce was arrested once after his carriage knocked down an elderly woman, but the case was dropped. President U.S. Grant was arrested for speeding in his carriage and put up $20 bond, which he later forfeited. Know your language: The word "radical" comes from a Latin term meaning "root." Theoretically, a radical is someone who likes to go to the root of any situation.

Agreement Between America and Cuba Declared 'Possible'

HAVANA (AP) — Blas Roca, Cuban Communist leader, declared Tuesday "agreement between Cuba and the United States is still possible."

His statement was made in the official party magazine, Cuba Socialista.

Blas Roca reiterated Prime Minister Fidel Castro's suggestion of last month that American-Cuban relations should be improved.

The article concluded by saying: "It can not be expected that American authorities will immediately accept Fidel's openings, and it cannot be expected that there will be any immediate change in existing tensions, but these openings will in the future have their effect and will exert great influence."

High Cliff Has Record Fees, Attendance

SHERWOOD—Attendance and revenue records were broken at High Cliff State Park during July, according to figures released by Manager John Franzen.

A total of 133,420 persons visited the park last month in 38,120 cars.

There were 711 campers and camping fees amounted to $1,113. Revenue from annual park stickers was $3,050 and $1,462 in 50 cent daily sticker fees were collected, for a total of $4,512.

Work on the water pipeline for distribution of water from the 113 buildings at the low-level of the park is continuing, and probably will be completed by Labor Day, Franzen said.

Laotian Officials Deny Communist Charges

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Laotian officials denied Tuesday Communist charges that they had authorized American planes to fly over Laotian territory and attack North Viet Nam.

The denial, sent to North Viet Nam's foreign minister, Xuan Thuy, charged in turn that the North Vietnamese guerrillas are using Laotian territory as a route to South Viet Nam.

The letter was signed by the Laotian rightwing Deputy Premier, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan. Laotian government sources said Premier Souvanna Phouma had approved the letter.

They sit like oversized, gray, somnolent ghosts, awaiting only ship. The mothball fleet already has proved itself. When ships were needed for the Korean conflict, the Suez Crisis and the Cuban Crisis they were ready the mothball fleet of cargo, tanker, troop and fighting vessels.

Cost of preserving a ship is $16,000 for the initial mothballing and $1,900 a year after that. The ship is prepared for mothballing by removal of expensive and portable items, which are put in a warehouse labelled for a particular ship. The machinery is drained, the ship cleaned and the vessel towed to the mothball fleet and stored.

Mothball Fleets

Great U. S. Armada Lies In Waiting Like Ghosts

Other mothball fleets are at Mobile, Ala.; on the James River in Virginia; the Hudson River at New York; Suisun Bay, Calif.; Astoria, Ore.; Olympia, Wash.; and Wilmington, Del.

The ships appear dead, simply stagnating in the sea and weather. But inside the vast vessels, a ferment of activity is under way.

Men clomp about the deserted upper decks, their hat flashlights throwing eerie beams. A crew of 102 civilians works constantly to keep the vessels shipshape.

These men are fighting the enemy — it and puts the item back to rust. And they live in a terror of fire.

No electricity except that of the hat flashlights is permitted aboard. No fire is allowed on or inside the vessels.

Threat of fire, for almost every inch of the interiors is covered with special oils to retard the action of sea water and the moisture in the air.

Most of the vessels have become impregnated with paint and chemicals. All fire hazards.

J. S. Negroto of Port Arthur, Superintendent of the installation, cites the official purpose of the mothball fleet crews to "maintain a fleet of government-owned vessels in a state of preservation that will retard deterioration."

Negroto has spent most of his adult life aboard ships or working with ships. He started in 1931 aboard a tanker. In World minutes to discuss the party, campaign issues, and "the normal things good Republicans talk about."

Goldwater Will Seek GOP Leaders' Advice

Goldwater said he had not discussed the role Rockefeller might play in his campaign.

The governor has said he will support the ticket, but campaign only in New York.

Goldwater told the summit conference he and vice-presidential nominee William E. Miller would stand behind the GOP platform's "solemn pledge for full implementation" of the new civil rights law.

Goldwater said he rejects any suggestion that he would do otherwise because he voted against it in the Senate.

Rights Law Obedience
"Further, I say to you that I will use the great moral influence of the presidency to promote prompt and peaceful observance of civil rights laws."

"It goes without saying that a Goldwater-Miller administration would take — within appropriate constitutional limits — whatever action is necessary to deal led in the earphones of pilots and crew members as the fleet of helicopters roared toward the objective, an open field surrounded by jungle and rubber plantation groves. Pilots maintained tight formation and propeller-driven fighter planes swooped in for their strafing runs.

Copters Hit At Viet Cong In Jungle Area

Troops Landed
"Hit the northern tree line with everything you've got," Maj. Earl O. McConaha of Helo. S. Dak., called back to his helicopter crew.

In the jungle, scores of smoke bursts erupted, and tracers arched up at the helicopters. Machineguns in the fast-moving helicopters chattered, and rockets roared from their pods.

(This correspondent was knicked on the face by flying metal).

Troop-carrying helicopters touched down about six seconds, just long enough to unload their men. Only a few troops reported enemy contact.

Reds Keep Up Fire
"In this mess of jungle, there could be 2,000 or 20,000 Viet Cong hiding, and we'd never see them," an American paratroop adviser said angrily.

But Viet Cong antiaircraft batteries continued to hammer away from under their canopy of foliage.

Returning to Saigon from the second lift, helicopters again drew murderous fire.

Near the same place Tuesday, the Viet Cong hit a government outpost, killing 11 defenders and capturing 19 rifles.

Crash Kills 3 On Expressway

Raymond K. Dlohek, 26, his 15-month-old daughter, Eileen, and Vinko Vitchar, 44, of West Allis, died Tuesday in the head-on collision of cars driven by the two men on the Milwaukee expressway system.

Sheriff's Department Capt. George Kosalos said that Vitchar's auto crossed the median strip and collided with the car Radich. He said the callers of the police officer, who was on the way downtown to pick up his wife.

Also reported Tuesday was the death of Jerome Dwarak, 26, of rural Denmark. He died in a Green Bay hospital Monday night of injuries received when his car crashed on a town road in Montpelier in Kewaunee County.

Teacher Wins Reinstatement

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A former English instructor at City College of San Francisco was reinstated in 1964 for refusing to answer questions before the House subcommittee on un-American activities, has won a court fight for reinstatement.

The State Supreme Court Tuesday ordered the San Francisco Board of Education to rehire John W. Mass, 53, and to pay him back wages estimated at more than $120,000.

The decision was the first under the Dilworth Act dealing with suspension and firing of California school teachers who have taken the 5th amendment. The court ruled that the board failed to follow correct procedure in firing Mass.

effectively with situations in this area that might develop in disorders, riots or any other forms of mass lawlessness."

"And," he added, "let no one mistakenly assume that a Goldwater-Miller administration would shirk any federal responsibility to prevent any American from suppressing the rights of any other American."

Foreign Affairs
Goldwater devoted much of his attention to foreign affairs.

"The Republican party is, and has proven itself to be, the party of peace," he said.

"We don't claim that the Democrats are a war party," he said. "But America might well question the caliber of leadership which has blundered into three wars in my lifetime because it doesn't understand its responsibilities for keeping the peace."

"We will hear over and over again until November such words as 'impulsive', 'trigger-happy', 'imprudent', 'hip-shooting' and the like," he said.

"Now I wonder if the really impulsive and imprudent President isn't the one who is so indecisive and vacillating that he has no policy at all — with the results that potential aggressors are prompted to move because they know we have no policy."

U. S. Alliances
Goldwater said he would set out "to rebuild and revitalize" the U. S. alliance system.

"We will repair, on an urgent priority basis, the damage done by this administration to the great North Atlantic Treaty Organization," Goldwater said.

The senator said he supports "unconditionally the purposes the United Nations was originally intended to serve."

He said the United States must "make the fullest possible use of the United Nations" and seek to improve it.

But he added, the United Nations "was never designed to be a substitute for a clear and resolute U. S. foreign policy."

Need Republicans
Politically, Goldwater said, "We seek to read no one out of this party. We want and we need the help of every Republican if we are to win in November."

"I seek the support of no extremists — of the left or the right," Goldwater said. "I have far too much faith in the good sense and stability of my fellow Republicans to be impressed by talk of a so-called extremist take-over of the party."

"We repudiate character assassins, vigilantes, Communists, and any group such as the Ku Klux Klan that seeks to impose its views through terror or threats or violence," Goldwater said.

Windjammer Sailing to Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The winds were out of the northwest as the seas generally flat as the Norwegian three-masted windjammer Christian Radich sailed Lake Michigan toward Milwaukee today.

A welcoming flotilla waited offshore to accompany the training ship the last five miles of the trip from Chicago. The Radich will remain in Milwaukee until Friday morning.

The sailing vessel, manned by a crew of 106, including 88 merchant marine cadets, made an earlier stop in New York after winning the Lisbon-to-Bermuda Vinko Vitchar, 44, of West Allis, Atlantic Ocean race over sailing ships from seven other nations.

Harry C. Brockel, Milwaukee's port director, said he has received literally hundreds of calls from all over the state asking for information on the trip and collided with the car Radich. He said the callers of the police officer, who was on the way downtown to pick up his wife.

Brockel said he expected the ship to have "maximum interest" as a crowd attraction in a Green Bay hospital Monday night of injuries received when his car crashed on a town road in Montpelier in Kewaunee County.

Meningitis Claims Lives of Soldiers

ET ORD, Calif. (AP) — Army officials say a meningitis outbreak that has claimed 10 lives at Ft. Ord apparently has been controlled.

Post Surgeon Rolland B. Siga said Tuesday, "We still have nine patients in the hospital but thankfully, all are now off the serious list."

The disease has stricken 61 persons so far this year at this Army training base. Nine soldiers and a child, a military dependent, have died of the disease.

"We hope the worst is over," said Maj. Gen. Edwin H. Carns, base commander. "But we are not going to relax our precautionary measures until we are absolutely certain

Turks Continue Air Missions Over Cyprus

Boy Held in Girl's Death

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 Inspector of Detectives Leo Woelfel said that some rocks had been piled around the body but that it was not concealed. Police Chief Harold A. Breier said the body was nude from the waist down except for tennis shoes. The girl's shorts were nearby. The body was found about a mile from the home of Janette, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kruzycki. Janette was last seen Friday when she left home for a day of swimming at a nearby pool. Met in Park Shaffer said in his early morning press conference that the 15-year-old boy told of meeting Janette at Kosciuszko Park, her destination. The park is about eight locks from the storm sewer tunnel. The girl was reported missing by her parents Sunday. When a police search ran dry Monday, Breier ordered 20 officers from other duties and assigned them to the investigation with orders to start over. Report to Police Police said the two boys took a blue canvas beach bag to a district police station about 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, and told Detective Casimir Strzyzewski they saw the feet of a girl over the beachbag contained a red and pink bathing suit, and the girl's name was on the bag. The boys led police to the tunnel. Mr. and Mrs. Kruzycki heard over a television broadcast that the body of a young girl had been found. They said that when the report included the information that a purse with a broken handle was at the scene, they felt it was their daughter, they told newsmen.

Premier's Message It said Greek Premier George Papandreou sent a cable to Makarios saying "I express my deepest sorrow because we have agreed differently and you have acted differently." Greek Cypriot Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou flew to Athens Tuesday and met with the Greek government. Later, the Greek government issued a communique pledging full support to Greek Cypriots in case of another Turkish attack. "In view of the barbaric Turkish bombing of the noncommunal population, the Athens government decided in an extraordinary session to throw its full weight in support of Cyprus," Athens radio said. Await U.N. Action The broadcast said the Greek government deferred a decision to send its air force into action against the Turkish jets until the U.N. Security Council in New York considered the crisis. After angry exchanges between the Greek Cypriot and Turkish delegates Tuesday night, the council appealed to all nations to end fighting over Cyprus. Two Turkish fighters flew a reconnaissance mission over the northwest coast earlier in the day. In his broadcast, Makarios urged the Greek Cypriots to show "great self-restraint," but added: "We shall not be bent. We shall not weaken. We shall not give in. We are determined to fight, either alone or with others."

Appeals for Aid Makarios said he expected his appeals for military aid to be successful. Cyprus has asked for help from the Soviet Union, the United Arab Republic, Yugoslavia and Syria, but the response has been mainly words of support. In Ankara, Turkish air commanders said their planes would continue reconnaissance flights and were ready to deal out heavier blows if the Greek Cypriots renew attacks on coastal villages. A western diplomat in the Turkish capital said "the situation is hanging by a thread." In Nicosia, U.N. officials said the cease-fire could vanish with a single incident. In Kokkina, a fishing village where the Turkish Cypriots are grimly defending their last bit of coastline, 500 irregulars are confident they will get Turkish air support if Greek Cypriots attack again. Associated Press correspondent George McArthur visited the village and said the irregulars appeared heavily armed with sten guns, rifles, bazookas and mortars. He said some appeared to have had military training. The Greek Cypriots opened the drive on the area, charging that Turkish troops and material were being landed there. Kokkina said that a Greek fighter plane attacked the village mosque with rockets Sunday, killing two persons and wounding four others. The civil war began last December when the Makarios government tried to end the legislative veto of the Turkish Cypriot Minority.

Paper Declares Kennedy to Run For U. S. Senate

NEW YORK (AP) — Attorney Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has decided to enter the New York race for U.S. senator, the New York Times said today.

The Times said it learned Tuesday night that Kennedy had told relatives and a few close friends of his decision. Kennedy expects to make a formal declaration of his candidacy next week and in all probability announce at the same time his resignation as attorney general, the story added.

The Times said an authoritative source disclosed that the Kennedy camp anticipates an endorsement from New York City Mayor Robert F. Wagner within the next few days. The story said Kennedy's intentions became known after a day in which the campaign to get him the Democratic nomination "gathered momentum in all sections of the state."

Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester is expected to run for re-election. He has the support of his party's state organization, but he says he hasn't made up his mind.

The Greek Cypriots opened the drive on the area, charging that Turkish troops and material were being landed there. Kokkina said that a Greek fighter plane attacked the village mosque with rockets Sunday, killing two persons and wounding four others.

Cyprus Expels BBC Newsmen

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The Cyprus government today expelled a British correspondent, Jack Williams of the British Broadcasting Corp.

A government statement said his "absolutely groundless" report that heavy fighting was still under way Tuesday could have endangered the peace. Williams was placed on a don-bound plane without being allowed to return to his hotel room to pack. "The government takes this opportunity to reiterate its faith in and respect for the freedom of the press at the same time," the statement said. Hannay said Tuesday news it wishes to emphasize it shall not hesitate to take measures to ensure the truth, the statement said.

Williams told newsmen on his arrival in London that he attributed the deportation to a re-item about him had been in the BBC recently reported about fighting in the Mansoura region of the island. The Cyprus government conceded there was no fighting and whisked across a hall to the jury room.

Judge Critical Of Criticism HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Federal District Court Judge Allen B. Williams was placed on a don-bound plane without being allowed to return to his hotel room to pack. "The government takes this opportunity to reiterate its faith in and respect for the freedom of the press at the same time," the statement said. Hannay said Tuesday news it wishes to emphasize it shall not hesitate to take measures to ensure the truth, the statement said.
